

Barton will not be reappointed to assessment job

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer said Wednesday afternoon he will not reappoint James W. Barton as the county's supervisor of assessments.

It is not yet known whether Barton, currently under indictment, will seek a public hearing and possibly appeal the decision to the County Board. Many on the board oppose him remaining in the position.

CREATED IN 1972, the job has been held ever since then by Barton. Hagnauer chose the elected Granite City Township assessor (Barton) for the appointive county assessment post in 1972 and reappointed him in 1976 and 1980.

The board voted 17-11 to retain Barton in March 1983, when his continuation was challenged by a member due to 1982 indictments, which were later dismissed, reinstated and then appealed.

The current four-year assessment supervisor term expires Dec. 31. To not reappoint him, Hagnauer had to notify Barton between 120 and 90 days in advance, specifying the reason.

"I BELIEVE THAT it is in the best interest of the county and the office that you now hold to not reappoint you to another term commencing Jan. 1, 1985," Hagnauer said in a letter to Barton yesterday.

"Over the past 12 years, you have accomplished many of the goals and objectives initially visualized by both the county and the state in the creation of this office. As chairman, I would like to thank you for these efforts. I wish you success in your future endeavors."

Hagnauer told the Press-Record last night, "I told him in the letter that he has certain appeal rights. I don't want to comment on it beyond that, at this time." He declined to speculate on a replacement.

Barton and Hagnauer met privately Monday morning. The assessment official has made no comment since then, but there is general speculation he will not seek a hearing.

THE JOB IS RELATED to the duties of the Board of Review and involves equalization of real estate assessments, which are the basis of most local-level taxation. Barton and three others were indicted Sept.

21 for alleged sale of assessment reductions in return for gifts to Barton's legal defense fund.

State's Attorney Don Weber yesterday called for Barton to take a leave of absence for the rest of 1984.

County Board Member William R. Haine of Alton urged Barton to step down, regardless of whether he is innocent. Haine said the controversy and defense activity cannot help but divert Barton from giving full attention to his duties.

Entrapment may harm prosecution of the case—Allen

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

An effort to link the Democratic state's attorney nominee, Richard Allen, with county assessment issues is wrong and could backfire against the incumbent, Don Weber. Allen told the Press-Record yesterday.

Robert L. Carter, the "wired" witness in an investigation that led to the indictment Sept. 21 of Assessment Supervisor James W. Barton and three others, said "a Barton associate" offered him an assistant state's attorney job "if Allen defeats Weber" Nov. 6.

Allen said there has been no such offer by him, but that Carter evidently thought he could get an assistant job with Weber.

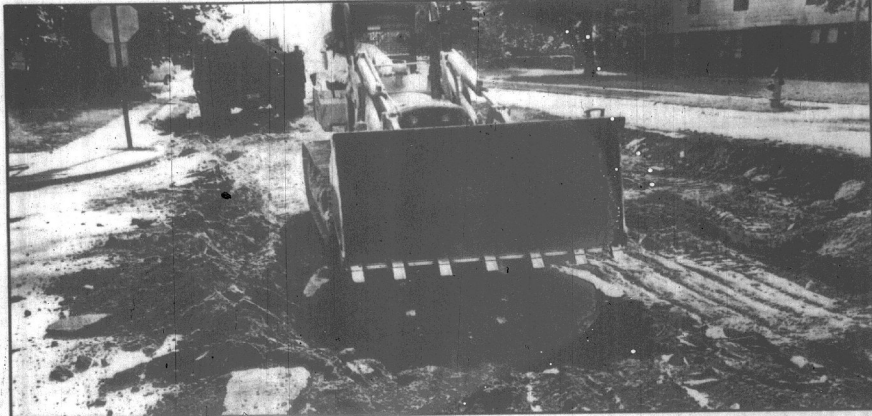

SHOWING PHOTOCOPIES of two letters from Carter, Allen said a potential Carter-Weber link "very well may blow their case on Barton and the others. It appears to me that it's entrapment."

The witness who provided recorded conversations—as part of the probe culminating in an 18-count indictment of most Madison County dealers in seeking lower assessments.

Carter said he agreed at one point to a suggestion that he represent all of most Madison County dealers in seeking lower assessments.

IT WAS A COVER-UP for the solicitation of contributions from dealers, and for cutting the value-

BISSELL STREET RESURFACING. The street departments of Madison and Venice have begun the joint project of resurfacing two blocks of Bissell Street, which divides the cities. The work was to have been done during the summer of 1982, but other projects were given a higher priority. The Illinois Department of Transportation is reimbursing Madison for the materials used, then estimated at $5,000. Charles Voloski, an employee of the Madison-Street Department, is shown removing some of the old street surface Wednesday.

Emissions testing beginning in 1986

"Under the gun" from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, Governor James R. Thompson Monday signed legislation forcing mandatory vehicle emissions inspections in the Chicago metropolitan area and Metro-East, including the Quad City area, starting Jan. 1, 1986.

"Despite our best efforts, the measure sent to me this spring left Illinois in what could realistically and accurately be called a 'no-win' position," Thompson said.

THE STATE was threatened with the freezing of all federal highway funds unless mandatory tailpipe emissions tests were ordered. William Ruckelshaus, director of the U.S. EPA, wrote Thompson stating, "The U.S. EPA cannot accept further delays that would occur if legislation in its final form is not signed this month. I am sure you agree that it is in the state's best interest to continue moving forward toward compliance."

Ruckelshaus added that failure to approve the program would "necessitate the imposition of federal funding restrictions and a constructive moratorium" in the Chicago and Metro-East areas.

Thompson noted, "If I were to veto or change House Bill 1704, as many around the state have urged me to do, hundreds of millions of dollars in federal highway funds could be taken away from us over the next several years, something that would

Madison OKs cable TV franchise

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
of the Press-Record

Cable television service should be available to Madison residents in 30 to 45 days, following city council approval of a franchise agreement with South-Western Cable TV, Ltd., Maryville, Tuesday night.

South-Western submitted the high bid of $515,000 to purchase the city's cable system, which is already installed and will provide cable TV access to Madison residents.

Another "community access channel" will be provided, and the city would set up the guidelines for its use by the citizens of Madison. Another access channel could be provided later, provided adequate notice is given by the city.

Nighoissian said the city will receive three percent of all gross revenues collected by the cable TV company. The franchising fees are payable at the end of each calendar year and will go into the general fund of the city.

NIGHOISSIAN noted that the city could receive additional revenues from the cable television service. One provision allows the city to collect fines of $25 to $500 from anyone found illegally "tapping in" to the cable system without paying for the service.

Five channels will be available to the city for "special monitoring services." This use could include the remote video monitoring of high crime areas from the police department.

ALDERMAN Don Garrett questioned the number of access channels, saying that another company that bid on the cable system was willing to offer three access channels and establish a studio in Madison High School. "I thought it was a distinct advantage, but I do not think it should make a difference, because there are other advantages with South-Western Cable."

The studios for South-Western are located at its headquarters in Maryville.

South-Western General Manager Lon Carruth told council members that very few cities use the access channels.

MAYOR MIKE Sasyk said that he expects South-Western Cable TV officials to sign the agreement and send a check for the purchase of the Madison cable system within a week.

Asked about signing up for the service, Carruth said his company will bring in a marketing team of about 20 people to call on residents, explain the various programs available and sign up interested customers. As an incentive, he noted, first installation will be offered during the first 30 days of marketing.

Alderman Robert Griev expressed concern that members of the marketing team may use "high-pressure tactics" in selling the services and that some residents may not understand the cost associated with buying numerous programs.

CARRUTH said that if someone does not understand the price structure of the programs, he or she should call the company office and it will be explained to them.

Alderman Thomas Gordon, a member of the city's Finance Committee, which met with cable TV officials to work out the agreement last week, commented, "I think the results of the final draft are very satisfactory."

Nameoki board refuses to oust Mehelic

By RACHEL NEWSOME
of the Press-Record

Convicted of official misconduct, Frank Mehelic, Nameoki Township Highway Commissioner was a major topic of discussion at Monday night's board meeting. Hoping for Mehelic's resignation, Trustee Helen Hawkins stated, "I don't enjoy bringing this up any more than anyone else, but there is something we have to do."

"This board has no jurisdiction to abolish the highway commissioner," proclaimed H. Carl Runge, Mehelic's attorney. He also, defending Mehelic, implied that many other township employees are guilty of utilizing township time for their own personal purposes and only those not in some way guilty of this accusation might "throw the first stone."

PENDING MEHELIC's appeal, Harry Briggs, supervisor, said, "Let's wait for the action of the state's attorney."

Having a difficult time convincing the board to comply with her request, Mrs. Hawkins explained, "I have very few friends in this office but, in this case, I wish the board would make a decision."

"I don't want to make a decision now and then conflict with the state's attorney's decision," said W. Lee Adams, trustee.

Entitlement city idea is rejected

By SUSAN SIGNAIG-WEICH
of the Press-Record

Granite City aldermen voted to stay with the county's Community Development program Tuesday night, denying their option to gain a possible increase in funds by joining the federal entitlement program.

Alderman Sharon Perjak, who spearheaded the move to become an entitlement city, was the lone dissenter in the vote to stay with the county.

ACCORDING TO Mrs. Perjak, Granite City would have received $787,000 this year had it been an entitlement city. The city instead received $291,000 from the Madison County Community Development program.

Council members voted to stay with the county program after listening to a presentation from two representatives from the Madison County Community Development Office.

Cheryl Jouett, program director for the county program, said that the city had benefitted financially from the county program in ways other than through Community Development funds. She said one example is an Urban Development Action Grant (UDAG) that was awarded to aid the reopening of A.O. Smith Plant.

MRS. JOUETT said if the city had not been a part of the county program, there is a "99.99 percent certainty that the city wouldn't have gotten the UDAG." She also said

Zoning hearings set for Friday

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals will conduct two on-site hearings in Chouteau Township on Friday, Sept. 28.

The first hearing is at 10:30 a.m. at the intersection of Route 111 and the old Route 66 bypass. Alton Banking and Trust Company and Hen House Interstate, Inc., are requesting a variation of the zoning ordinance in order to erect a high-rise advertising sign, which would total 558 square feet. This exceeds the 300 square foot maximum in a B-3 highway business district.

At 10:35 a.m., the same petitioners are asking for a variation on the height of the advertising sign. The proposed sign is to be 87 to 90 feet tall, instead of the maximum height of 30 feet in B-3.

September deadline for license plates is near

Automobile owners with license plates expiring in September who have not mailed their applications, should buy their new plates or stickers at a Secretary of State facility or financial institution.

It is now too late to send applications by mail and guarantee delivery of the new plates or stickers before the Sept. 30 expiration deadline. Stickers and plates may be purchased at Secretary of State facilities in Springfield and Chicago, and at more than 1,400 financial institutions, including 660 banks, 171 savings and loan associations, 16 credit unions and about 600 Chicago area currency exchanges.

"If you have a current license plate with numbers only, you will be issued new plates this year," Edgar explained. "During the next three years, all 5.5 million cars in Illinois will receive license plates with the new design."

Motorists wishing to keep their same plate number can apply to do so.

Pre-printed renewal applications have been mailed to 671,000 owners who renew their stickers in September and 70,500 owners who will also receive the new passenger car license plates this month.

Children are topic of seminar

St. Elizabeth Medical Center is sponsoring a series of seminars, "The ABC's of Growing Up," in October and November. The seminars, SEMC officials say, will enable participants to "learn how to take care of your children from Pampers to prom."

The four seminars cover four different topics: "A" for adolescence, "B" for babysitting, "C" for chemical dependency and "S" for safety.

The first seminar will be the "Babysitting Clinic," sponsored by the Pediatrics Department at SEMC, in conjunction with Nursing Education. The seminar is open to anyone 12 years old or older who is interested in becoming a skilled babysitter. Job responsibilities, child care and safety, first aid and entertaining the child will be among the topics of discussion.

The "Babysitting Clinic" will be conducted from 9 a.m. until noon Saturday, Oct. 6, in the Wiesman Room at SEMC. A charge of $5 will help cover the cost of handouts. Refreshments will be served and certificates awarded upon completion of the clinic. Enrollment is limited to 50 participants. Those wishing to register should call SEMC at 798-3256.

SEMC officials next will present "Danger Alert: Protecting our Children," a workshop discussing child safety, first aid and toxins. The seminar will be presented by professional emergency room personnel from 7 to 8:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 16, in Pascal Hall at SEMC.

Admission to that workshop is free, refreshments will be served and door prizes will be awarded. In addition, babysitting will be provided for children from 1 to 9 years of age. Brochures, pamphlets, tot finders and slide guides will be available to all who attend.

"Alcoholism-Chemical Dependency: Its Effects on Children and Adolescents" is the title of the third seminar in the series. Della Kinsolving, director of Talbot Hall, will discuss the roles of family members of alcoholics. She also will present information about detecting the signs of chemical dependency in adolescents.

The presentation will be given free of charge at 7 p.m. Monday, Oct. 22, in Pascal Hall. Handout materials will be distributed.

The final seminar in the series will be "Adolescent Development," a presentation by Dr. Barbara Geliebter of the St. Louis University Department of Psychiatry. She assisted in designing the program for the Adolescent Psychiatry Unit soon to be opened at SEMC.

The seminar is scheduled for 7 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 6, in Pascal Hall. Dr. Geliebter will discuss normal adolescent development, how to recognize abnormal behavior and what to do about it.

statute, was interrupted by Briggs, who emphatically stated, "This discussion is over."

The ordinance states, "Any person holding office under the Constitution of the state of Illinois and every elected official of local government or of any school district convicted in any court of the state of Illinois or of the United States of an infamous crime, as understood in Section 1 of Article XIII of the Constitution of 1970, shall be, upon conviction ineligible to continue in such office."

"If, subsequently, a final order reverses the conviction, eligibility to hold the office, to the extent of the original term then remaining is restored, and the office shall be reinstated, for the duration of the term of office remaining. Each such officer shall be promptly repaid all compensation withheld from him as a result of his removal."

ADDITION to this information, the Press-Record was able to obtain an ordinance concerning official misconduct. This ordinance states, "A public officer or employee commits misconduct when, in his official capacity, he commits any of the following acts:

"(a) Intentionally or recklessly fails to perform any mandatory duty as required by law; or
 "(b) knowingly performs an act which he knows he is forbidden by law to perform; or
 "(c) with intent to obtain a personal advantage for himself or another, he performs an act in excess of his lawful authority; or
 "(d) solicits or knowingly accepts for the performance of any act a fee or reward which he knows is not authorized by law; or
 "(e) knowingly and intentionally executes a false document which authorizes the disbursement of public funds or the disposal of public property."

"A public officer or employee convicted of violating any provision of the Section forfeits his office or employment. In addition, he commits a Class 3 felony."

AFTER THE MEETING, Mrs. Hawkins commented, "Action by the board was very necessary to the case. The board had an opportunity to clear themselves of the whole mess. It was our duty to do something as elected officials. We're showing our responsibilities on other officers."

She also said she feels the board wants the state's attorney's office to do the job for them.

IN OTHER business, many questions were again raised by concerned residents of Meridian Avenue. Charles Reed, accused of dumping roofing shingles, cement, tires and trash into a drainage ditch, thus causing area drainage problems has assured the board and residents that he will clean up the litter by the township's next meeting.

On recommendation from Adams, the residents agreed to have Reed go in with a backhoe, push the shingles and trash up to the easement, put two loads of dirt on it and level it. Adams predicts this will make moving the area much easier.

The board's next meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, Oct. 9, at 7 p.m. in the township offices.

Particles on cars, sidewalks are found to be graphite flakes

An investigation conducted by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA) has determined that shiny particles present on cars and sidewalks in Granite City are primarily graphite.

The IEPA conducted samples of the particles after numerous complaints were filed by citizens and aldermen about the substance. The report, which was placed on file at the Granite City Council meeting Tuesday night, said samples were taken on Alexander and Lincoln avenues and at the de-kishing station at Granite City Steel on or about July 26, 1984.

The report said the primary component in all of the samples was "black, opaque graphite, commonly described as kish when associated with iron and steel production."

It also said the fallout samples contained "isotropic fragments of slag and/or fluxing products with crystalline inclusions."

THE SAMPLES also contained fused, opaque, black, magnetic spheres, which the report said is probably iron oxide. It goes on to say that "the spherical shape indicates a high temperature melting operation, such as those associated with iron and steel production."

The report draws the following conclusions: "The primary component causing soiling is kish, a graphite/carbon flake occurring as a byproduct of iron and steel production. The extremely close similarity of the particles from the reference sample collected at the de-kishing station indicates that the particles are due to wind erosion of kish storage piles and/or are emitted directly from the de-kishing operation."

"The presence of fluffy, hydrated iron oxides in the reference sample suggests that the source of these soiling particles is a direct emission, rather than an aged material eroded from a storage pile."

WALTER FRANK, regional manager of Region III, Division of Air Pollution Control, said Wednesday that the IEPA still is responding to complaints on the graphite particles and "working with the company (Granite City Steel) on this to determine the source." He said he has no idea when the source will be pinpointed or when a resolution to the problem with be determined.

Daniel Hines, director of public relations for Granite City Steel, said a plant official told him he was not aware that a report had been filed on the samples. Hines said, however, that Granite City Steel is cooperating fully with the IEPA.

"As in the past, we took our own internal investigation of the problem," he said.

"But to my knowledge the IEPA has not been able to determine that Granite City Steel is the source. I think it is a bit premature to speculate about the source or any solution to the problem before the source is identified."

Mary Huck, public information officer for the Illinois Department of Health, said Wednesday that "there probably aren't any serious health hazards connected with the graphite particles."

SHE SAID, however, that some health risks could result if persons are exposed to "very large amounts for a very long period of time."

Mrs. Huck said since the particles are too large to inhale, there can be no hazard from inhalation, but that exposure to fallout particles may cause some cases of eye irritation.

She advised that if residents get the particles in their eyes or on their skin, they should wash the substance off "right away."

"THIS SUBSTANCE is undoubtedly an annoyance but there is no significant health hazard associated with it," she concluded.

Emissions testing

seriously hamper our road rebuilding program just as its impact begins to be felt. No choice was left but to sign this bill," the governor said.

HE ADDED, "The bottom line is that we have to impose an inspection and maintenance program. Car owners in the Chicago and East St. Louis areas will not have to pay for inspections. Illinois taxpayers will see some road funds diverted to pay for the inspections, but we avoid the loss of hundreds of millions of road fund dollars from the federal government in the next several years."

"Given the current position of Illinois in the receipt of federal funds, other than transportation, the potential loss of our road funds is unacceptable," he said.

table," Thompson said. Cars and trucks built from 1968 to the present will be required to have their vehicles inspected annually to meet federal Clean Air Act standards. Testing will be free and will be done at state-specified testing stations. Station operators will be prohibited from doing repairs that would bring vehicles into compliance with the law.

Diesel powered vehicles, motorcycles, farm and antique vehicles and certain others will be excluded from the mandatory testing. Pass standards will be set by the Pollution Control Board and are to be no more stringent than necessary to meet federal requirements, the governor said.

Vehicle registration and driver's license privileges can be suspended for failure to comply with the program.

Vehicles failing the emissions test must undergo an emissions tune-up. If, after the tune-up an auto still fails the test but it is determined all proper pollution control equipment is in place on the vehicle, a waiver will be issued to the owner.

The program is expected to $35 million, with $12.2 million coming from the State Road Fund and $22.8 million from local government road funds.

Certain Zip codes are excluded from the testing. Madison County Zip codes excluded from testing are 62001, 62012, 62021, 62025, 62034, 62043, 62045, 62055, 62062, 62069, 62074, 62088, 62097, 62234, 62249, 62269, 62275, 62281 and 62294.

Entitlement city

that interest gained from the loan given to A.O. Smith will be used in programs in the Granite City area.

Other detrimental aspects to the entitlement program would include a withdrawal of the city from all county-funded housing and industry programs, the city would be required to hire administrators and an accountant to run the Community Development program and there would be no guarantee from the federal program that Granite City would receive a substantial amount of money in future years.

MRS. JOUETT said she did not think the withdrawal of the city from the county program would affect the city's bid to become an Enterprise Zone, however.

After the presentation, Mayor Paul Schuler said that he is against opting for the entitlement city designation because of the lack of guaranteed funding for future years. "There are three cities of comparable size in Madison County that have the option of becoming entitlement cities and, of those three, Alton and Bethalto have already chosen to stay with the community program," he said.

Alderman Sam Whitmer agreed with the mayor. "These people in the county know us and care about us," he said. "The federal people don't know us. And we've gotten a lot of money out of the county."

WHITMER ADDED that there has been some speculation that Granite City could hurt other small communities in the county if it pulled out of the program. This could happen if the county program's population dropped below 200,000 residents. (Granite City's lone withdrawal would not have this effect.) "Our reasons to stay with the county are more than that," he said.

Alderman Woodrow "Woody" Moad added that although the entitlement program is not agreeable to the city at this time, it may be in the future. "I'm not sure the timing is right now for the program, but I think we should look at it in the future," he said.

Drug free week culminates with fair

Rich Schardan, a member of the Granite City Chemical People Task Force, said he was disappointed in the small turnout for a lecture given Monday night concerning "Drug Free Youth Week" but is hopeful that Quad-Cityans will show enthusiasm for the remaining activities in this week's observance.

According to Schardan, only one person showed up for the lecture Monday night, Granite City Alderman Carl Kettel. Schardan said he was concerned that residents are ignoring a problem that is "very real" among area youths.

"I don't understand it," he said of the small turnout. "I was tempted to call the whole week of activities off, but we've got to get the message out, even if it's only to one person."

Schardan said he hopes for a better turnout at the lecture tonight and the Youth Activity Fair Saturday. Tonight, Schardan will speak on the subject of Common Drugs of Abuse and their Effects. The lecture will be given beginning at 7:30 p.m. at the Township Hall, 2060 Delmar Ave.

Also speaking will be Ginny Dellmann, coordinator of Family and Outpatient Services at Talbot Hall. Mrs. Dellmann will speak about Chemical Dependency and its Effects on the Family of the Abuser. Another special activity for "Drug Free Youth Week" will be hosted by various groups on Saturday, Sept.

29, at the Wilson Park Ice Rink. The purposes of the event are to enjoy drug-free activities, learn about drug abuse, youth organization and support groups.

The entertainment will feature a magic show by Granite City Policemen John Apperson from 10:15 to 10:45 a.m.; a cosmetology show by the Granite City School of Beauty Culture from 11 to 11:30 a.m.; Christian rock music by the Crimson Faith Band from 11:45 a.m.

Scholarships available for Ill. college students

Several scholarships are available at the college to help students pay for their education.

If students are interested in or studying for a health-related occupation, they may want to apply for one of several scholarships offered by the Illinois Health Improvement Association.

APPLICANTS SHOULD BE Illinois residents who intend to practice in Illinois. Financial need will be taken into account when these scholarships are awarded. The application deadline is Friday, Sept. 28.

The Masonic Nurses Training Foundation is making awards to BAC nursing students. Students must be enrolled and making satisfactory progress in the nursing program. Financial need will be taken into consideration when these awards are made. The application deadline is Friday, Sept. 28.

For information or application forms for these and other scholarships available at BAC, students may contact the Financial Aid and Placement Office, 1-235-2700.

VCR, MONEY ARE TAKEN
A burglary occurred last week at the home of Barbara Rodriguez, 712 Second St. After prying a door, the intruder took two videocassette recorders and $100 cash.

Industries told of school needs

Representatives of several industries conferred last week with Granite City school officials on details of the school system's financial outlook.

Also participating in the discussion was Mack G. Johnson, an Imperial Oil and Grease Co. account manager who has been active in citizen efforts related to the Nov. 6 school election.

The ballot lists $6,000,000 in working cash funds and a 40-cent increase in the education fund tax rate limit.

Ways to contact the public about the two proposals are to be considered at tomorrow night's meeting of the Board of Education.

Contact with Parent-Teacher Associations and other groups is planned in order to increase local awareness of the schools' deficit and its threat to the continued existence of District Nine.

Laws related to potential future state actions—to pare school spending and to place sections of the district in other districts—were outlined at the meeting with manufacturing officials.

It was noted that 8,732 students are enrolled, a figure less than the advance estimate, and a factor affecting 1984-85 state aid.

RECOVER TELEVISION, REVOLVER, COINS GONE

A burglary at the home of Donna Miller, 602 Washington Ave., Venice, was discovered after a man was seen carrying a television set on his shoulders near the dwelling this month.

The television was recovered in a house in an alley in the 600 block of Lincoln Avenue and a man was taken into custody for questioning. It was reported. The individual was released pending further investigation.

Entry was gained by forcing the dwelling's front door and all rooms in the residence had been ransacked, reports said. Some coins and a .38-caliber revolver also were missing, it was noted.

BURLARS TAKE TV, FOOD

A 19-inch color television and assorted food items, including TV dinners, frozen fish and pizzas, were taken in a burglary at the home of Linda Nelson, 2107 Missouri Ave., also reported during the weekend. Other items in the home also were being inventoried.

To Don Weber,

Republican candidate for State's Attorney:

You were indicted by a Grand Jury in Madison County on two counts of Official Misconduct which are Class 4 felonies. You said the charges contained in the indictments were not true. Since you have denied the truth of these charges, the public interest demands that you produce the testimony heard by the Grand Jury before it indicted you. Only you can do this. Why don't you do it, Mr. Weber?

Paid for by Dick Allen for State's Attorney Committee.

posed earlier this year. The STEP plan, prepared by the governor during the spring session of the general Assembly, will be combined with ongoing efforts to update Illinois tax laws. The new law, combined with staff increases that double the size of the Department of Revenue's Criminal Investigations Unit, will improve state programs that have increased by 80 percent the amount of money collected from delinquent taxpayers over the past two years.

BAIL DENIED — Governor Thompson has signed legislation denying bail for persons arrested from crimes punishable by death or life sentences where the presumption is great or the proof is evident that the person committed the crime. Under the legislation, which becomes effective immediately, a person could be held in jail without being released on bail if there is overwhelming evidence the person committed an offense that upon conviction is punishable by death or life imprisonment. The governor said, "Such a person seeking release on bail has the burden under this law of demonstrating that the proof of their guilt is not evident and the presumption is not great," he said.

GAMBLING DEVICES — The governor, in a message to the General Assembly, said he approved House Bill 3102. The measure, sponsored by Representative Hawkins and Senator Prescott Bloom of Peoria, clarifies the definition of gambling devices as one "which is incapable of lawful use." In addition, the measure exempts Illinois State Lottery video games from the new code. A step Thompson said, "further indicates the legislature's recognition of the value new technologies offer for use by the Lottery." The bill takes effect Jan. 1, 1985.

JAIL TRAINING — The governor has signed legislation that will pro-

Illinois News

EMPLOYEE FITNESS — Governor Thompson has signed legislation, Oct. 3 as Illinois Employees Fitness Day to call attention to the relationship between good health and employee productivity.

HEALTH STUDY — Governor Thompson has signed legislation creating a statewide project to study the relationship between hazardous substances and the incidence of cancer, birth defects and environmentally-related diseases. House Bill 3038 creates the Illinois Health and Hazardous Substance Registry to compile and analyze information on public health and hazardous substances. It also establishes the Illinois Cancer Registry to gather information from hospitals and industry on the use of hazardous substances and the incidence of cancer.

The measure establishes a unified statewide project to collect, compile and coordinate information and to analyze it on a regional basis to determine if there is a correlation between public health and hazardous substances.

NUCLEAR SAFETY — Legislation signed this month authorizes the installation of $1.4 million in remote monitoring systems at Illinois' nuclear power plants. Under House Bill 3098, in-stack monitors, which feed data directly to the Department of Nuclear Safety's computerized command center in Springfield, will be installed at all Illinois nuclear power facilities. The first such system in the country was installed at the LaSalle nuclear plant more than two years ago. The capital expenditures will also finance radiochemical laboratories and emergency communications equipment. The bill also increases from $100,000 to $400,000 the annual per reactor fees paid by nuclear utility owners to cover increased emergency preparedness costs.

STOPPING FRAUD — Secretary of State Jim Edgar has announced the creation of an inter-agency task force to detect and deter oil and gas-related securities fraud. Edgar, whose office regulates securities matters in Illinois, and U.S. Attorney Frederick Hess also announced that Paul Stortz Jr. from Olney, pleaded guilty to four counts of mail fraud and securities fraud in connection with a scheme to defraud investor in three southern Illinois oil well projects. "A conviction in the Stortz case, which involved losses of $215,000 would not have been possible without cooperation between U.S. Attorney Hess, the U.S. Postal Inspection Service and the Secretary of State's Securities Department," Edgar said.

NEW AGREEMENT — Illinois completed its ratification of a two-state compact with Kentucky for the disposal of low-level radioactive waste when Governor Thompson signed the measure into law this month. "We anticipate that Kentucky officials will act soon to adopt the compact, either through an executive order issued by Governor Martha Layne Collins or by legislative action," he said. Thompson said, "Establishing a two-state compact will give Illinois the right to exclude low-level waste (LLW) originating outside the two-state region. This was the primary incentive for Illinois to enter into compact negotiations with Kentucky, since federal law allows compacts to exclude outside wastes, but is silent on whether an individual state can enforce such a prohibition."

TAX CHEATS — Efforts to catch tax evaders were strengthened this month when Governor Thompson signed legislation creating the Stop Tax Evasion Program (STEP), a Thompson Administration plan pre-

Governor considering a fourth term

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Editor

Governor James R. Thompson will announce this spring whether he plans to seek re-election, he told editors and publishers at the Illinois Press Association's annual convention in Decatur during the weekend.

"I will be age 50 at the end of this term and my mother says I should get a real job. Governor shouldn't be a career," Thompson said.

FACTORS TO be considered in deciding whether to seek re-election, Thompson noted, include determining whether the job remains enjoyable and challenging and deciding what has been accomplished in his first three terms and what could be accomplished in a fourth term.

"If you have done everything you set out to do in three terms, why go for a fourth? If you see things still to be done, it (seeking a fourth term) might be considered. I will make that decision next spring, well before the filing time in December," Thompson said.

The governor addressed a wide range of subjects while answering questions from the newsmen in the hour-long session. Among the topics were:

STEEL IMPORT RESTRAINTS

"The president's decision on steel was absolutely right. Had he followed the ITC (International Trade Commission) recommendations (to limit imports of some types of steel), it would amount to forced protectionism." Countries forced to limit steel imports would have retaliated by limiting their purchases of U.S. agricultural products. Since Illinois is a prime shipper of agricultural products, "we would lose more jobs in agriculture than we would gain in steel," he predicted.

Also, pipe and tube were not included in the ITC recommendation and those having to limit imports of steel would likely buy their pipe and tube elsewhere. "Where is most pipe and tube made? In the Midwest," Thompson said.

Thompson said he feels certain government will work with the steel industry to help it rebuild. National defense and the diversity of the economy dictate that the steel industry be kept viable, but the industry will never be as strong as it once was. "We used to dominate the steel industry worldwide. We don't anymore. We won't," he predicted.

The best hope for domestic steel is for the Reagan administration to "work out orderly marketing agreements" with the steel importers so the American steel industry can "buy time to rebuild."

BUILDING NEW PRISONS

The governor said there are no plans to construct any new prisons in the state, once those under construction are completed. He compared the prison population situation to that of the schools, where a swelling student population forced school districts to build more and more schools that subsequently had to be closed when the "baby boom" ended.

He said the "prison boom" is coming to an end as crime rates are reducing and the number of men and women in the crime-prone age groups is going down. "Prison population will decline over the next couple of decades, from all indications," the governor said.

FREEDOM OF INFORMATION

The governor said the state's new

Freedom of Information Act is being misused by some local governmental officials and may cause the legislature to take a new look at the act in its next session.

"For some perverse reason, some local officials have taken the Freedom of Information Act and used it to say 'No,' instead of 'Yes.' We ought to keep on top of that and make sure the act works for its intention," he stated.

ECONOMIC RECOVERY

"The race for jobs is a regional competition. This state, like the Cubs, is a winner this year. We just have to keep at it," Thompson said. He noted, "Just because recession is slipping into the background, employment is up, the budget is balanced and revenues are increasing, we can't talk back."

Political differences in Chicago are harming efforts to attract industrial firms to all parts of the state, Thompson contended. "A businessman wants to know what the bottom line is. Because they can't get their difficulties settled in Chicago, there are too many unknowns," he added. He said the entire state should be watching the battles in Chicago, since they are affecting the economy throughout the state.

Collection of firewood is allowed in state forests

Collection of firewood in Illinois' four state forests will be permitted from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Wednesdays through Sundays each week until Jan. 31, except during the firearm deer hunting season, according to Raymond J. Norbut, superintendent of public lands for the Department of Conservation (DOC).

The four state forests are: Trail of Tears, near Wolf Lake in Union County; Hidden Springs, southeast of Shelbyville in Shelby County; Big River, south of Keithsburg in Henderson County; and Sand Ridge, near forest City, Mason County.

The program is part of DOC's Energy Conservation Program, promoting use of what otherwise would be a wasted heat resource.

Collectors must obtain a one-day, $10 permit, which will authorize collection of up to one standard pickup truck load of wood. Where other kinds of vehicles are used, the standard load will be eight feet by four feet by 20 inches, Norbut said.

No more than two permits per person per year will be issued. Permits must be obtained for a specific date and be issued by the office of the forest where the applicant intends to gather wood. Permits are available Wednesdays through Sundays at the offices of the four state forests. Fees will go into the State Fish and Wildlife Fund.

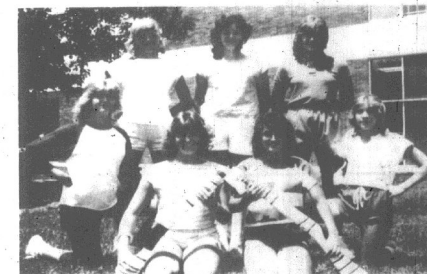

The firewood must be from dead and downed trees, not attached to any standing tree, and must be for the collector's personal use. It may be taken only from areas specified by the forest superintendent. Collectors must cut and haul the firewood themselves, using their own equipment.

Collecting will not be allowed Nov. 16 to 18 or Dec. 7 to 9, the 1984 firearm deer hunting season, or on Thanksgiving, Christmas or New Year's Day, Norbut said.

Clerical skills program geared to disabled workers moves ahead

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

Providing disabled individuals with viable job market skills to enable their successful placement in today's work force is the ultimate goal of a clerical skills instruction program now underway in the community.

Primary leadership in the project is being afforded by the Illinois Department of Rehabilitation Services (DORS), which provides the students, and Coordinated Youth Services (CYS), the agency contracted to furnish the training and help develop job placement opportunities.

Taking part in the initial phase of the joint venture are four women, who are currently receiving training at the CYS headquarters at Delmar and Niedringhaus avenues, it was learned.

Prior to their appointment to the program, all students are carefully screened, and evaluated by the Department of Rehabilitation Services.

The individual's capability to perform such work and her future potential in entering the job market are among the prime considerations for training, it was explained. Each candidate also has been certified eligible for the program by DORS.

Those comprising the first group of trainees are in the 40- and 50-year age level and need to enter or re-enter the work force for various reasons. Each has some form of disability, which is not necessarily an apparent physical handicap, according to Jack Strader, Rehabilitation Services counselor.

The training encompasses a time intensive, tailored program emphasizing business typing, filing, operation of office machines, light bookkeeping skills, telephone answering skills and etiquette and basic spelling and punctuation.

Personal grooming pointers to enhance the student's self image, and resume preparation also are part of the training process.

The program encourages structured visits to potential employers and employment sites and also advocates gaining experience in actual work settings.

The need for such a program was perceived after statistics were released by the U.S. Department of Labor showing that 90 percent of all new jobs between 1980 and 1990 will be in the white collar area.

Of these jobs, the statistics disclose that by far the fastest growing occupation is that of secretary with 700,000 job openings expected for the decade.

Clerk-typist positions also are indicated in the growth pattern, according to figures from the Economic Information and Analysis—Illinois Bureau of Employment Security.

Existing training of a similar nature in this vicinity is virtually restricted to community college programs, which are limited to classroom teaching settings and large numbers of students per class, it was noted in a program report.

There is little personalization and individualization in the college training to students in finding a job after classes are completed, it was found by those appraising the situation.

The new DORS-CYS project is designed to serve disabled persons on an individual basis, with special emphasis on training in actual work settings and successful job placement.

Individually tailored instruction in clerk-typist, receptionist and general office skills is integrated into real work situations. Mike Rousseau, program coordinator and class instructor, explained.

"We can tailor a student's training to a specific job," Rousseau stressed.

Those enrolled in the course attend class four hours each day, he said. Portions of the 12-week DORS-CYS curriculum are based upon courses taught at area business schools.

The coordinator is involved also in contacting local businesses, explaining the project to prospective employers while actively seeking jobs for his students.

Employers hiring graduates of the course are eligible for targeted tax credits and follow-up services will be offered, it was noted.

Dependability, enthusiasm, and maturity are major pluses for any employer hiring these workers, Rousseau contended.

C. A. "Bud" McMillan, CYS executive director, said an advisory committee to provide assistance in furthering the program recently was appointed.

Among those named were James Reidelberger, Don Young, Brenda Derby, Alicia Miller, Bob Maxwell, Jack Strader, Donna Daisy and Valerie Evenden.

Sewer district to fight illegal users

By RACHEL NEWSOME
for the Press-Record

Still fighting the long-standing problem of residents illegally tapping on to sewer lines, officials of the Madison County sanitary sewer district say their patience has finally run out.

At last week's meeting, the committee claimed approximately 150 people are illegally tapped on to district lines. According to county specifications, a resident may install and fit piping to the district lines, but the connection must be inspected by county officials before legally usable.

Those residents not legally connected are charged a fee bill which equals the amount other residents pay. However, if and when the violators are discovered, a $500 fine is assessed. To have a connection inspected by county officials, a resident is charged $25.

"We've given them three years to get hooked on, we need to get this thing straightened out," said Morris Miles, committee chairman. "Some townships came up with the funds for those who needed it, so there is no reason that they should not be hooked up."

"We are going to start checking now," said Gene Futch, sewer superintendent. A letter from Evelyn Bowles, county clerk concerning a breakdown of the tax extension was discussed and approved. The tax rate this year, derived from assessed value of the district, is $1.14.

Four years ago, negotiations began between Sanitary Service Area One and Peacock/Quality Sand regarding the purchasing of an already placed sewage lift station on Peacock property. With negotiations still in progress, Peacock states they are not ready to sell the lift station, but will allow transportation to and from it.

"I don't feel good about this at all," explained Futch. A lagoon located near the lift station has recently been filled in by Peacock, therefore the property value is higher. The committee is questioning whether to pay today's price or the price discussed four years ago.

"I can see this thing getting worse as the years go on. I think we should get it taken care of," said Nick Hamilos, committee member.

Approvals by the committee included the redemption of $428 for payments made on an empty lot owned by Virginia Thomas and because of a water leak, $95 was refunded to John Cuvor.

On recommendation from Futch, Elsworth Concrete will repair two lift stations for $750. "Lift stations sit on concrete slabs and these slabs are beginning to lean and will pull off the line," explained Futch.

Commentary Madison acting to solve a double-duty conflict

Webster's Seventh Collegiate Dictionary defines public service as "a service rendered in the public interest," and as "governmental service."

Under those definitions, public service can involve either a paid position or a voluntary act. In most cases, there would be nothing amiss about a person providing public services that fall within the boundaries of both definitions.

BUT QUESTIONS do arise when a person attempts to provide a "voluntary" public service at the same time they are paid for a public service. Such questions have arisen over the duties of Madison School Board President and Madison Police Sgt. Paul Bargiel.

Bargiel should be commended for his efforts on behalf of the school district and his faithful attendance to the meetings. But, how well can he serve the citizens of Madison as a uniformed, on-duty police officer when he attends board meetings the first and third Thursday evening of each month, while on duty?

The Madison Police Department's September duty roster indicates that Bargiel's shift was from 5 p.m. to 3 a.m. Sept. 6 and from 3 to 11 p.m. on Sept. 20. Both are nights that he attended Madison School Board meetings beginning at 7:30 p.m. On Sept. 20, the board met until 10 p.m., prohibiting Bargiel from patrolling the streets for two and a half hours. Bargiel was present, in uniform, during that meeting, as evidenced by the front page picture in the Sept. 24 Press-Record issue. Bargiel's squad car sat in the parking lot all through the meeting.

FORTUNATELY, the shifts provide for two officers, and two cars, are on duty each night.

Madison Police Chief Don Bridick told the Press-Record that he had "no knowledge" of Bargiel's service on the school board during duty hours. Bridick further commented that Bargiel "doesn't belong there (in the school board meeting)" while he is on duty because "he is violating department policy by being there."

On Monday, Bridick and Bargiel met to discuss the problem and Bridick says he told Bargiel that Bargiel is not to attend the school board meetings while he is on duty.

HOWEVER, BARGIEL is allowed a half hour for lunch and, Bridick says, he may use that half-hour to attend the board meetings.

Asked about possibly changing Bargiel's shift to accommodate his school board meetings, Bridick replied, "We don't have enough help now and I have to use them when we need them. I can't put a man on at night because Bargiel needs to work days."

He also noted that most employees are required to schedule their outside functions around their jobs.

BEFORE MONDAY'S meeting between Bargiel and Bridick, Bargiel told the Press-Record that he is taking his lunch time during the school board meetings. Bridick confirms that officers are paid for lunch and coffee breaks occurring during their shifts.

Bargiel also told the Press-Record that he had no such conflict problem before he was put in uniform. He formerly worked as a plain-clothes detective during regular business hours.

He says he has been assured that once new officers have completed their training and start patrol work, he will be put back into his detective position. He expects that will happen in about two months.

BRIDICK ALSO believes "the matter will be worked out." He noted that there are three newly-hired officers who will attend school Sept. 30 and will assume police duties in December.

It would be a shame for Bargiel to have to give up his "voluntary" public service on the school board to continue his "paid" public service as a police officer.

It would be more disturbing for him to have to permanently give up his police duties to continue his school board duties and other community services, including his post on the Madison County Housing Authority board of directors, especially in light of the shortage of experienced police officers in the city at this time. We believe neither would be required if Bridick and Bargiel would be a little more flexible in scheduling shifts.

BARGIEL DOES work some day shifts, and he does have two days off a week. Are the schedules so concrete that some leniency cannot be given to a person who would like to contribute time to his community by attending two night meetings a month?

That is not to say that all shift schedules should be subject to the whims and personal commitments of each officer. But an exception for such civic-minded activities would only serve the best interests of the Madison Police Department and the Madison School Board.

Summons issued in sick pay dispute

Madison city officials have received a summons to appear before the Third Judicial Circuit Court in answer to a small claims complaint filed by three Madison police officers.

The Madison City Council Tuesday referred the matter to City Attorney Casper Nighossian.

The summons requires that the defendant, the city of Madison, appear before the court at 2 p.m. Oct. 9, in Room 9 of Granite City Hall, 2000 Edison Ave.

Named as plaintiffs in the complaint are Madison Police Officer Thomas Voloski and former officers William Weidner and Richard Asperger.

The complaint seeks $2,000 for wages and attorney's fees. The plaintiffs' attorney, Nick Vassileff, says the three are asking for sick pay, which they were denied when five police officers called in sick on July 26, 1983. The three plaintiffs claim that they followed departmental policy by turning in a doctor's report, and should be paid for the sick day.

City officials have argued that the officers had the "blue flu," because of an informational picket by officers coincided with the sick days.

Voloski told the Press-Record that two other officers calling in sick that day were paid. He argued that he followed the department's policy in turning in a doctor's report and that he is, therefore, entitled to the pay.

Police Chief Don Bridick has stated that he feels he treats all of his men fairly, and that one of the officer's doctors, when contacted, said the officer had not come into the office.

Charge Florissant men in traffic stop

Kurt B. Kraemer, 18, of Florissant, Mo., was charged with unlawful possession of cannabis and improper lane usage after his auto was stopped this week on Route 162 near the Granite City Steel Blast Furnace Division gate.

Kraemer was freed upon posting a $52 cash bond. A large paper cup and a partially full bottle of whiskey also were in the car, it was alleged.

James J. Geertling, 19, of Florissant, Mo., one of three passengers, was charged with unlawful possession of alcohol and was released to appear Oct. 26.

9,098 enroll; recall five faculty members

With 9,098 students enrolled on the sixth day of attendance in the 1984-85 year, the Granite City Board of Education Tuesday night recalled five honorably dismissed teachers.

Along with teacher transfers and student assignments, the recalls solve all severe overcrowding, Supt. Frank L. Kraus said.

Four of the recalls of honorably dismissed teachers are related to the enrollment size, and are identical to the positions for which extra funds had been budgeted—two more elementary teachers and two more special education teachers.

Also, an exploring leave has been granted for 1984-85 to Carol A. Moore, a Granite City High School mathematics teacher. Recalled for that position was Sandra K. Jessee, who formerly taught at Coolidge Junior High School.

Jeanette M. Singleton, a former Logan faculty member, will teach a second grade class at Maryville School.

Charlotte A. Gauen, formerly a North High counselor and before that a first grade teacher, will divide her duties between Niedringhaus kindergarten and first grade duties.

Elaine C. Parish will be a GCHS cross-categorical special education teacher. She formerly was an Emerson School resource teacher.

Newly assigned to Mitchell and GCHS cross-category special education, Margaret Anne Lyons formerly taught vocal music at Coolidge.

Secondary assignments as GCHS cheerleader sponsors were given to Carla D. Ziff, a teacher of the visually impaired, who will be in charge of football cheerleaders; Cheryl K. Evans, a Maryville School teacher, who will sponsor soccer cheerleaders; and Terry S. Papa, a former North physical education teacher, who will be in charge of freshman cheerleaders for fall sports.

Two employed for school cafeteria staffs Tuesday night were Patricia Briggs, Margaret Cokrell, Miriam Ozanich and Martha Smith.

Halts Donaldson was chosen as a Parkway School part-time employee to serve as crossing guard and parking lot supervisor (Traffic) and parking there complicated by the available driveway space and the assignment of some handicapped students.

Reignitions effective Sept. 18 were accepted from two honorably dismissed teachers, Paula Gushoff-Koite and Cecilia Ann Stamps.

An enrollment report showed 4,645 boys (2,395 elementary and 2,250 secondary) and 4,453 girls (2,239 elementary and 2,214 secondary).

GCHS has 3,031 students, Coolidge Junior High 482 and Grigsby Junior High 591.

Tallies (his fall) include: Prather 719, Mitchell 596, Frohardt 566, Wilson 509, Maryville 533, Parkway 476, Niedringhaus 442, Webster 383 and Marshall 380.

For the second successive year, 12 schools are being operated, compared to 18 buildings in 1982-83.

Fall school enrollments are: kindergarten 692, first grade 693, second grade 642, third grade 597, fifth, sixth, sixth, elementary special education 150, secondary special education 51, seventh grade 676, eighth 706, freshmen 841, sophomores 775, juniors 765 and seniors, 630.

Plans call for elderly housing

Plans to renovate the old Madison Junior High School building and the vacant Dunbar School building for housing specify that the units would be rented to elderly residents only.

The Madison School Board and Madison County Housing Authority have submitted a grant application to renovate the old junior high building to the Department of Housing and Urban Development. The Madison School Board expressed hope last week that HUD soon would have more funds available to renovate Dunbar or that the Dunbar project might be pursued in place of the old junior high building project, should HUD approve funds for the junior high project.

According to Madison School Board President Paul Bargiel, the plans for the junior high project would designate 30 percent of the units for low-income elderly tenants, while the remaining 70 percent of the units would be rented to median-income senior citizens.

The Press-Record erroneously stated in Monday's story about the projects that 20 percent of the units would be available to median-income individuals or families.

Sasky responds to campaign statements

By SUSANNE INDELICATO of the Press-Record

Madison Mayor Mike Sasky took the floor during Tuesday's Madison City Council meeting to read a letter of response to a Sept. 20 article in the Press-Record. That article concerned the announcement by mayoral candidate John Belloff that Madison for several terms and Costoff would be Belloff's campaign manager.

In his letter, which appears in the Focus section on page 4 of today's issue, Sasky questioned why Costoff and Belloff, who is city clerk, would "criticize their fellow aldermen, who, in my opinion, have done an outstanding job and have been dedicated and worked tirelessly for their constituents and the welfare of the city of Madison."

Sasky continued, "The alderman and city clerk state they want to help people get jobs, but one was a county chairman for several terms and I do not know of one job Madison received. He will try to take credit for jobs that we have received under the former county chairman, who was responsible for Madison getting its share of jobs. The city clerk was on the Port Authority for 14 years and I do not know of one job that Madison received."

Sasky then addressed Costoff, asking him why the city issued only 20 year leases for buildings in the Industrial Park. He noted that the leases will expire in four years, and then, according to the city's agreement, the tenants will receive 30 years of free rent. "I don't know why this came about, but maybe Christ, you may have an answer. You're the only man that was here on the council when this happened."

Sasky denied that the city was run by a "one-man show." The Sept. 20 article quoted Costoff as saying, "We used to have a fine town under the late Steve Maeras. We need to get back to helping each other and getting along. Under Belloff, we can. It won't be a one-man show."

In reading the letter, Sasky did not reveal whether he will seek reelection, although he indicated he will be active in the mayoral election. "I want to tell the city clerk and alderman that if they live in a glass house, let them throw the first stone. I intend to take my gloves off and let the people and the bank know what type of leadership they would have under the alderman and city clerk, and I will also let the people know what type of candidate I will be endorsing—whether it's me or someone else."

Immediately following the reading of the letter, Sasky asked for and received a motion to adjourn the meeting.

Citizen school vote drive opens

By BILL WINTER of the Press-Record

Citizens for Continued Education received a "green light" at Tuesday night's Board of Education meeting to spearhead the campaign for passage of two school financial proposals Nov. 6.

A positive election campaign was outlined by Mack G. Johnson, chairman of the citizen group, and School Superintendent Frank L. Kraus. The citizens will conduct the "Vote Yes" drive, with Kraus and the school staff serving as resource persons.

A POSITIVE CAMPAIGN is planned. Supt. Kraus said he has instructed the staff to assure that various programs may be ended.

Although well intentioned, some overzealous activity will begin to develop, causing several parents to worry about undue pressure on students. It was unauthorized and will not continue, Kraus said.

But the citizens will make clear that they believe an affirmative response by the public is essential in November to assure that the school district can continue to provide effective instructional services.

A single, unified campaign strategy will be developed. Citizens will be urged to consider approving a $6.6 million working cash fund bond issue and a 40-cent increase in the education fund rate.

UNTIL HEADQUARTERS can be set up, probably on Nameok Road, with telephones manned, those wishing to volunteer their help in the campaign are to contact the office of Supt. Kraus at 876-6600. Johnson, an Imperial Oil & Grease Co. account manager, a 15-year Granite City resident and the father of two local students, said public meetings are planned and speakers will be provided to organizations desiring them.

Resisting arrest, DUI charges filed

After following a flatbed truck whose driver appeared to be having difficulty from 20th Street eastbound on Edwardsville Road early this week, an officer alleged the driver crossed into the westbound lanes near the Granite City Steel's blast furnace plant gate, failed to stop when spotlighted from the patrol car and threw a plastic cup out of the vehicle.

The truck turned north on Nameoki Road and was halted at East 23rd Street, where the driver, Jonathan D. Meng, 25, of 2817 E. 24th St., allegedly disregarded a request to get out of the truck and shut on the off the engine.

Advised he was under arrest, Meng began arguing and also made obscene remarks in the squad car, it was alleged.

At police headquarters, the truck driver was advised to remove his personal property and shoes and allegedly threw a boot through the booking window at a police lieutenant.

Meng became combative and attempted to swing his fist and force was needed to place him in a cell, reports alleged. He was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol, resisting arrest and improper lane usage.

Officer Roger Hayes sustained an injury to his right wrist during the incident.

WEST PONTON COLLISION

Jeffrey Vetter, 31, Hazelwood was hurt this month, when the right front of his eastbound van collided on West Pontoon Road with the left front of the auto of Keith Payne, 17, of 112 Briarcliff drive. The latter vehicle was leaving the Crossroads shopping center.

Lottery report false

By GARY SCHNEIDER
of the Press-Record

It was a classic, like the Chicago Tribune's Dewey Beats Truman story. Due to time restrictions, the Tribune took the best available information at the deadline and wrote the post-election morning story that Dewey had won the election. Likewise, Monday's Press-Record carried the best available information at deadline that there were two Lotto winners from Granite City. Like the Tribune's story, ours was wrong.

When we first heard Monday that a man had been in a tavern bragging that he had all six numbers in the Lotto and was on his way to Cahokia to turn in the winning ticket, we inquired. He was gone, but he had told patrons that he bought his ticket at Sullies Package Liquor.

We called Sullies and were told that there was not only one winning ticket, but two. Hold the presses! Double checking, we asked specifically, two tickets were sold with all six numbers correct. Someone at Sullies confirmed that was correct. We thought we knew to whom we were talking. Time ran out and it was off to press. An hour later we received a teletype dispatch from the lottery office that there had indeed been two winners, one in Marion, Ill., and another not yet identified in the Chicago area. Oops!

A check back with Sullies brought different results. The owner said he had not talked with us and did not know who did. He certainly did not confirm to us that he had two winning tickets sold there, he said.

We will not attempt to speculate on the cause of the communications breakdown which led to the error. Since we have not determined who it was who confirmed our information, we have been unable to pinpoint where the conversation went awry.

Summarize it to say we are human and we goofed. We misled our readers and are sorry. In more ways than one. We are sorry there were not two Granite City winners of $4 million each. One of us might have been among them. Maybe this week?

National Convention topic of DAV Chapter

Andrew Gitchoff, commander of DAV Chapter 53 called for the convention reports from the delegates who attended National Convention held in Washington, D.C. Delegates who attended were: Andrew Gitchoff, Joseph Hefferly, adjutant; Lawrence McGuire, vice-commander; members, George Krpan, Harold Menzel and Paul Cooper.

Lawrence McGuire reported on the State Executive Committee (SEC) meeting he attended recently in Rockford, Ill. DAV leaders are urging all DAV members to vote in the November election and to "yes" for the proposed amendment to Section 6 of Article IX of the Illinois Constitution. This proposed amendment, if enacted, would exempt from taxation the property of veterans organizations the same as other charitable organizations. This Constitutional Amendment will be the only one voted on in November and it will be on a separate ballot known as Veterans Property Tax Exemption Amendment.

Gitchoff announced the Department of Illinois sponsored National Employ the Handicapped (N2H1) poster contest and an awards banquet will be held on Friday, 23, at the Elmer's Restaurant in Evergreen Park, Ill. This is the 30th consecutive year that the DAV has honored the outstanding art works of Illinois high school students.

The DAV and the Illinois Job Service share responsibilities in this function, but the funding of prizes and banquet costs are born exclusively by the DAV, he said.

Lawrence Lockhart reported John Kozak is still confined to Jefferson Barracks VAH but may be discharged soon. He reported that Ed Oakes, past commander of the Department of Illinois, is scheduled for eye surgery later this month.

Joseph Hefferly said that the membership is two months into the new year, and National Headquarters has set new membership goals that will require total commitment of all members. The local chapter closed last year's membership with 408 members, a record for the chapter, but short of their goal of 444 for June 30th. They have set a goal of 496 by Dec. 31, so all 408 members need to help recruit delinquent and new members to meet that goal, he said.

File felony theft charges against 2

Two out-of-town residents were booked on felonies in connection with a shoplifting incident this month at Shop 'N Save food store, 3250 Nameoki Road.

Doris A. Reed, 37, of East St. Louis and Albert Banks Jr., 40, of Brooklyn, Ill., were both charged with retail theft in informational documents issued through the Madison County state's attorney's office.

The pair was taken into custody at the store, where the woman allegedly had two boxes of shrimp and a package of meat, with a total value of more than $31, in her possession. Neither Banks nor Mrs. Reed entered a plea in court appearances in Granite City. Mitimus were issued and both were transferred to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

Infant CPR classes set

"What would you do if suddenly your baby stopped breathing? Each year, thousands of infants who die unexpectedly might have been saved if one of the parents had had the necessary CPR training," a spokesman for St. Elizabeth Medical Center, 2100 Madison Ave., said. SEMC is offering a class entitled "Infant CPR" to all parents who currently have an infant in the home. CPR is cardiopulmonary resuscitation.

The class will meet at 6 o'clock in the Nursing Education classroom at McKinley School, 22nd and Iowa streets, across Niedringhaus Avenue from the medical center. "Infant CPR should be an important part of every parent's training," said Elizabeth Gramates, SEMC obstetrics supervisor. "I hope every parent with an infant at home learns these techniques. It could mean the difference between life and death for their babies."

Free to area residents, the class will be taught by two Red Cross certified instructors.

Computer graphics training for teachers

The microcomputer laboratory at Granite City High School will be the scene of a workshop series on Tuesday nights, Nov. 13, 20 and 27, titled "Use of Computer Graphics."

It will be available to all teachers in a ten-county area of Southwestern Illinois, under arrangements by Tenco, a ten-county school aid consortium. Tenco will pay consultant expenses and will provide the necessary computer software.

Plans for the workshop were approved by the Board of Education last week.

Resignations were approved after being submitted by two honorably dismissed teachers, Gerald McKeehan and Kenneth Gattling.

Permission was given to the Quad-Cities Soccer Association to use the Prather School cafeteria to conduct referee clinics on Wednesday evenings from Sept. 19 through Dec. 31.

Grace Baptist Church will utilize the Niedringhaus School gymnasium Monday nights, October through April.

The board accepted a bid of $2,682 from Ceiling Supply to provide 1,008 pieces of 2x4-foot acoustical tile, 1,000 cross tees and 120 main beams with which to repair and replace damaged ceilings in various schools.

United Office Machines will service and maintain 146 classroom typewriters in 1984-85, including summer 1985 cleaning, for $26 per machine, a total of $3,796.

Computer Country will furnish nine card-reading computers, for $998 each, a total of $8,982, to process reading tests and analyze data on student achievement.

News notes

The state has granted a 50 percent discount in license plate fees for senior and disabled drivers who receive "circuit breaker" relief. The discount will go into effect in March.

Glenda Arnett of Granite City has been named business agent of the Missouri-Mississippi River Valley District Council of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union, AFL-CIO. She will be responsible for union contract administration in locals in St. Louis, southern Missouri and southern Illinois. She will help coordinate ILG legislative and political action programs in the 21st and 22nd Illinois congressional districts as well as the 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 8th and 9th Missouri districts.

Leo Sprankle of Granite City, an officer of the Illinois secretary of state, has been reprimanded for firing a shot that broke the rear window of a car full of people Aug. 19 on Interstate 64 east of Fairview Heights. Twelve police departments were chasing escaped convicts in still another auto. Of the seven in the damaged car, which had no connection with the chase other than close proximity to the fugitives' vehicle, two persons were hurt slightly by flying glass. Sprankle was manning a roadblock.

The Illinois Supreme Court has ruled that divorced persons may be required to use their pensions or disability benefits to pay alimony or child support.

ON PUPPY TEETHING

Beginning at the age of about four months, puppies begin to lose their baby teeth as the adult teeth push through the gums. It is quite normal for puppies to go off their feed during this period, and even to develop a mild diarrhea. Since their gums are sore, it might be advisable to switch to a softer, blander diet than the one your puppy is having trouble with.

At the same time, most puppies like to ease their sore gums by chewing on something soft, possibly even human flesh. As much as you may sympathize with your puppy's distress, it might be wise to discourage him from this habit before too much of your anatomy is destroyed. Hard rubber toys and raw hide bones are a good substitute.

If the baby teeth have not fallen out by the time your puppy is 7 or 8 months old, you should take him to your veterinarian. If they are left in, they can cause the permanent teeth and the puppy will be left with a double row of teeth or crooked teeth. If they are not removed by a professional, there is a chance that they can break off at the roots and cause complications.

County joins battle over tax assessment protest

By SUSANNE INDELICATO of the Press-Record

The Madison County Board last week unanimously approved a resolution to join other taxing districts in Granite City Township in hiring an appraiser to help fight Granite City Steel's protest of its property tax assessment.

The resolution states that the county and other taxing districts will spend no more than $25,000 for the expenses of the litigation, including attorneys' fees, appraisal fees and other expenses "necessary to object to a reduction in the assessed value of Granite City Steel Company."

Madison County officials estimate the county's share of the expenses will be about 10 percent of the total cost. Granite City Township taxing bodies, headed by the Granite City School District, are sharing the cost of reassessing Granite City Steel's property to gather information to be used to fight the company's request for a large decrease in its assessment. The cost of the litigation is to be shared proportionately by the taxing bodies on the basis of the number of tax dollars each receives from the steel mill.

The County Board also approved a resolution ratifying its agreement with American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, Local 759. The new agreement offers no wage or benefit increases, and Board Member Herbert Milton of Granite City pointed out that there is no change in the language of the contract.

"The three members of the (negotiating) committee, being from a union, found it hard to say, 'No, no, no,' but we did," he commented.

The contract is effective from Dec. 1, 1983, to Nov. 30, 1984, or during the county's fiscal year.

In other business, the County Board adopted a resolution authorizing the payment of "unexpected and unanticipated" costs in the Police Merit Board and Board of Review budgets.

The resolution states that the unexpected expenses of the Police Merit Board resulted because of hearings and the testing of potential sheriff's deputies.

The Board of Review incurred an unanticipated postage bill of approximately $14,000 because of a new state law that required the mailing of notices to all taxpayers who received an adjustment in their assessment.

The resolution requires that the funds to pay these expenses be appropriated for the balance of the fiscal year, with a monthly submission of the claims to be approved by the finance committee and the County Board.

When officers arrived at the scene, several employees were chasing Duckett, who stopped upon seeing police. He was released after posting a $204 cash bond, pending a court appearance.

Complaints of gasoline storage at quick shop

Karen Starr of the Granite City Standard Station complained to Granite City Council members last week about a gasoline storage tank which is to be placed at Huck's quick shop and gasoline station, the former Park-N-Eat.

Mrs. Starr said section 8.52.130 of the city's municipal code prohibits the placement of a storage tank with flammable liquids within 500 feet of a hospital, public building or school.

City Attorney John Papa said, however, that there is a separate article in the municipal code for gasoline stations which reduces the distance to 85 feet.

Acting City Engineer Ed Schulze said that Niedringhaus Avenue is 80 feet wide, from sidewalk to sidewalk, so the storage tank placement at Huck's should be within the city guidelines.

Barbecue to aid 10-4 Explorers

A public barbecue to benefit Explorer Post 10-4 is scheduled from 11 a.m. until 6 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 29, at 2 & 2 Car Wash, 220 Madison Ave., Madison.

The event will be sponsored by the Madison Sportsman's Club, a group of local deer hunters who have hunted together for the past 15 years, according to Thomas George, president.

"Everyone in the Quad-City area should be very proud of Explorer Post 10-4 and what the group has done for the area in general and the excellent training it gives local youth," George said.

Last year, the Madison Sportsman's Club donated the proceeds of its annual barbecue to the Tammy Beckman liver transplant fund, it was noted.

Connie Webb of the 1600 block of Fourth Street, Madison, was walking east in the 1400 block alley between Fourth and Fifth streets late last week, when a man jumped from an auto grabbed her shoulder purse and ran away.

After grabbing the brown leather purse containing two pairs of prescription eyeglasses, papers and prescription medicine, the man ran west in the alley toward State Street without speaking, the victim said.

The purse snatcher was a black man about 5 feet, 8 inches tall, weighing 140 pounds and of medium build. He wore a white baseball cap, a short-sleeved red shirt and jeans, she told police Saturday.

CRASH INJURES MOTORIST

George M. Marshall, 1105 McCambridge Ave., Madison, was injured when his car collided at Greenwood and 12th streets, Madison, last week with the parked auto of Larry C. James, 1038 Greenwood St. Marshall was eastbound on 12th.

Alleged drag racing results in charges

Two Madison youths face multiple traffic charges following an alleged drag racing incident on Circle Drive during the weekend.

Reports allege that two autos, operated by Ronald A. Rowane, 18, of 1332 Fifth St., Madison, and Henry H. Farmer Jr., 17, of the same Fifth Street address, were unable to negotiate a curve on Circle Drive and were forced to leave the roadway, resulting in Rowane's auto striking a fence in the back yard at the home of William Scroggins, 705 Twenty-Ninth St.

After hitting the fence, both vehicles reportedly collided with each other and Rowane's car then struck the tongue area at the front of Scroggins' mobile home.

At that point, Farmer's auto allegedly was driven from the scene and the occupants of Rowane's car fled the area on foot.

Officers called to the accident alleged seeing Rowane and Michelle A. Davis, 17, of 2223 Edison Ave., a passenger in his car, running across the roadway at Nameoki Drive and Sinclair Avenue and took them into custody. Miss Davis was charged with violating the curfew statute.

Rowane was charged with drag racing, illegal transportation of alcohol, failure to give information upon striking property and not having a valid registration (wrong license plates). He was released upon posting a $202 cash bond.

At 6 a.m. Saturday, Farmer was taken into custody by Madison police and turned over to Granite City authorities.

He was booked for drag racing, not having a valid driver's license and failure to give information upon striking property.

SERVE ASSAULT WARRANT

55-Alive Driving Course set Oct. 2

The 55-Alive Driving course will be available in Granite City. This program is designed to increase the older driver's concern for the normal age-related physical change of vision, hearing, and reaction time, as they affect driving and increase awareness of appropriate technique for driving in today's complex traffic patterns.

It will be Room 542 at the Granite City Center, 4950 Maryville Rd., on Tuesday, Oct. 2, through Thursday, Oct. 4, from 6:30 to 9 p.m. The cost is $7 per person for the three-night session and may be paid on the first night of class. Only persons 55 years of age and over are eligible.

Most insurance companies will allow a discount on insurance premiums for seniors who have taken the class.

For further information or to register for class, seniors may call the RSVP office in Granite City at 876-3223.

RESISTING AND CONDUCT CHARGES ARE FILED HERE

Called to the 4200 block of Kirkpatrick Homes during the weekend, officers were told by a woman resident that James R. Dukes, 47, of 2905 Dale Ave., allegedly made threats toward her and declined to leave.

Dukes reportedly refused further requests to leave and tried to push an officer, it was alleged. He was charged with resisting arrest and disorderly conduct.

Matthew 9:37 - "The harvest truly is plenteous, but the labourers are few."

It is a true saying that no matter what shape you are in, there is always someone else who has it worse. Now rather than being comforted by this knowledge, we should be moved with compassion.

Here is an opportunity for you to become involved in God's work. You are doing better, you have it a little easier, you have something that you can give Jesus said, "Pray the Lord of the harvest, that he will send forth labourers into his harvest."

As you pray to the Lord, be sure to listen also. He may be speaking to you. You may be the answer to the very prayer you are praying! He may be sending you.

The harvest waits. Will you go? Today.

In Collinsville Tonight Warriors clobber Comanches; meet Kahoks

By JOE THOMPSON

GRANITE CITY — A victory, A late goal. A pat on the back. Fudge Jumbos.

Fudge Jumbos? It was, you might say, a sweet night for the Granite City High Warrior soccer team.

After dismantling the Cahokia Comanches 4-0 Monday night at the Gauntlet, Warrior players were swarmed by their cheerleaders, who offered home baked cookies, cupcakes and Fudge Jumbos.

Reasoned cheerleaders Colleen Ryan, Gwynne Johnson and Linda Dupont, "They deserve it."

This isn't the first time the girls have helped the players out in a domestic way. While the players were working out on their own during the teachers' strike, the girls treated the players to watermelon.

Acknowledged Warrior captain Mike Houston, "They're good to us."

OF COURSE, you might say the Warriors earned their treats, firing 29 shots at the Cahokia net and forcing 10 corner kicks.

Perhaps what was most significant is that the Warriors kept up their barrage throughout the match — even scoring a fourth quarter goal. It came with a little over a minute left to play.

This had been a concern. In recent matches, the Warriors had built early leads only to watch other teams mount late surges.

Warrior coach Gene Baker was happy. "The kids played a good ball game," said Baker, who by the way passed on the treats. "If there's anyone who doesn't need them, it's me," he said.

BAKER said the players had had a good workout Monday. "We're making some progress," he said. "Our own game is beginning to show."

In praising his team, Baker drew a huge circle. Among the many whose efforts pleased him were junior keeper Allan Zentgraf, who played in the match making two saves, and Mike Dennis.

There was also Houston and, of course, Dennis Gaudreault.

Gaudreault again paced the Warrior attack with a pair of goals. It was he who scored in the fourth quarter, ending a final stanza drought of sorts for the Warriors.

Gaudreault scored on a feed from Greg Gobbie.

GAUDREULT also scored the Warriors' first goal. This came after less than six minutes had been played. The score was set up by an alert Houston, who fed Gaudreault after quickly setting up on a free kick attempt.

The Warriors scored again in the first quarter, this time on a superb effort by Todd Adamitis, who "walked in" on the Cahokia net, beating netminder Randy Lightfoot.

Adamitis figured in the third goal, which came shortly before halftime. He was tripped in the penalty area, earning a penalty kick — following a flurry of activity in front of the Cahokia net.

Scott Grote made good on the penalty kick boot.

COMANCHE coach Bob Bresnahan blamed his team's fifth loss in seven outings on "too many mental mistakes."

They certainly were unexpected. Baker said he had scouted the Comanches and had liked what he saw.

"They're a very well-coached team," said Baker. "They're competitive."

There was some humor coming from the Cahokia bench. In the waning minutes of the match, the freely substituting Warriors found themselves for a few minutes with 12 players on the field. They're only supposed to have 11.

"HOW I know what the problem is," kidded Bresnahan, reflecting on the Warriors' dominance. "That's in the tradition."

One wonders if he also knew about the Fudge Jumbos.

This evening, the Granite City may need another little boost from its cheerleaders as they take on Collinsville in Collinsville. Last time the two teams met, Sept. 13, the Warriors edged the Kahoks 2-1.

Jayvee action begins this afternoon at 5:30 p.m., followed by varsity action.

In Volleyball Last Night Spikers sting Kahoks

By PAULA WISE

COLLINSVILLE — For the past several years, the Granite City High School girls' volleyball team has traveled to Collinsville in search of a victory, only to be turned away by the mighty Lady Kahoks. This year, however, it was different.

The Warriors took the first and third games of the three-game match Wednesday by the scores of 15-7 and 15-12 to secure the victory. The Lady Kahoks took the middle game 15-4.

"I can't believe it after the way we played last night," Coach Wilma Schulze said comparing the game with Tuesday's loss to Bethalto.

THE GRANITE City coach also said she was happy to have the win over Collinsville before they enter the Collinsville Invitational Oct. 6.

"This year Quincy was unable to maintain the lead. Several good plays proved to be the hero for Collinsville as she strung six straight points to give her team the victory."

"That's volleyball," said Coach Schulze after the game. "It can change that quickly. When you don't attack, they start attacking and bomb you."

Granite City pulled to an early 9-3 lead in the final game. Several good net plays by the Lady Kahoks added them as they pulled to within two points 10-8.

WITH Betsy Barrington serving, Debbie Brandt put down two good spikes to give the Warriors a four point cushion. After a missed serve by Collinsville, two more Brandt spikes put the Warriors on top 14-10.

Collinsville again pulled the score to within two, but they were unable to get any closer because of two consecutive missed serves.

Brandt, who led the Granite City team in spiking in the final game, was in a new position for the Warriors in Wednesday's match. Usually a center hitter, Brandt has been moved to the outside hitting position to generate more offense from the outside.

WAS her first game there tonight," said Coach Schulze. "She hasn't even practiced there before. She doesn't get to hit too much from the inside, so I thought if I put her out there she would get to attack more."

Replacing Brandt in the center-hitting position is sophomore Sandy Sternberg.

"She's only a sophomore, so she's inexperienced. But, she's smart," said the Granite City coach. "You can see her trying to do the correct things but sometimes the execution isn't always good because she hasn't played enough."

The Warriors will test their skills against another perennial powerhouse tonight when they take on Belleville Althoff. The match is at home and will begin at 6 p.m.

THE Warriors are 5-1-1, losing only to St. Mary's of St. Louis and tying Belleville West last Thursday.

OFFER teams mentioned in the Coaches' Poll include Glenbrook North, third; Evanston and Quincy-Notre Dame tied for fifth; Downers Grove-South, seventh; Hinsdale South, eighth; Fremd, ninth, and Maine South comes in 10th.

Other teams listed 11th through 15th include St. Charles, last and this year's state tournament host, Palatine, Gordon Tech, Naperville North, and, again, Alton.

In the Writers' Poll, behind Glenbrook North and New Trier who tied for first place, is Collinsville, third; Evanston, fourth; Granite City, fifth; Quincy-Notre Dame, sixth; Hinsdale South, seventh; St. Charles, eighth; Downers Grove-South, ninth, and Fremd, 10th. Rounding out the top 15 are Alton, Naperville North, Maine South, Gordon Tech and Palatine.

MEMBERS of the 1984-85 voting coaches panel include Joe Brennan, Niles West; Tom Chmela, Evanston; Al Beah, Forest View; Randy French, Malin; Norm Hillner, Lake Park; Al Knepper, Quincy-Notre Dame; Jim Luzzi, St. Ignace; Nick Markulin, Brother Rice; Tony Schinto, New Trier; Jim Stranz, Collinsville, and Dave Winter, Maine West.

Contributing and voting writers in the poll include Woodrow Carroll, Fox Valley Journal; Pete Hayes, Alton Telegraph; Dick Quagliano, Chicago Sun-Times; Tom Loftis, Daily Herald, and Greg Koeller of the Chicago Star.

THEY (Collinsville) serve for power. Sometimes when you do that you give up accuracy. This was one night they had problems...

SPIKE IT. Warrior Debbie Brandt spikes the ball past Collinsville's Pam Konsky in Wednesday's match with the Lady Kahoks. The Warriors took the match 15-7, 8-15, and 15-12 to raise their record to 2-3 on the season. The Granite City squad will face another tough rival tonight when they host Belleville Althoff in a 6 p.m. contest.

Warriors Rated 4th, 5th New Trier tops in Sting Letter

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER

According to the Chicago Sting High School Newsletter, the New Trier Trevians are the team to beat in its first Soccer Power Rankings which came out last week.

Selected to share first place in both the Coaches' and Writers' Polls, the Trevians share the honors with Collinsville and Glenbrook North.

In the Writers' Poll, New Trier shares first place with Glenbrook North, last year's state champions, with 67 points.

GRANITE City, state champions in 1982 and annually a front-runner in the poll, has been rated fourth by the coaches and fifth by voting writers. Alton, the only other downstate team to be recognized in the top 15 by both the coaches and the writers, finished 15th and 11th in the coaches' and writers' polls respectively.

The Newsletter is for last week, Sept. 14-20.

Since the poll, the teachers' strike in Granite City has ended and the Warriors have fared well, defeating both rated area teams — Collinsville 2-1 and Alton 1-0. Currently,

Play Friday Warrior-Kahok grid matchup pits friends against each other

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER

COLLINSVILLE — Sometimes old friends become new enemies.

That'll be the case Friday as Granite City High School's varsity football team takes on Collinsville here at Football Bowl.

The latest confrontation is besides the traditional Warrior-Kahok rivalry. There's never been any love lost there. These two warring tribes have been at it for generations — something like the relationship between the Sioux and the Blackfoot tribes.

The friends-turned-foes situation will result from both teams' first-year coaches. On the Warriors' side of the field will be Ron Yates, the man who hopes rebuild the Warrior football program. On the other side of the field is Bob Hollingshead, the man who hopes to turn Collinsville's program around.

NOT ONLY are Yates and Hollingshead old, knockin' around buddies, but they hunt and fish together, play softball on the same team and, in the summer, do roofing jobs together.

They consider themselves "best of friends."

It was during the summer — in the middle of baseball season and the summer's searing heat — when these two began talking football.

"I had already received the Collinsville job, and Ron indicated that he wanted the Granite City coaching position," Hollingshead said.

It was the middle of summer, right there on the roof, and there we were talking football — what I planned to do here in Collinsville and what Ron would do if he got that job," Hollingshead said. "I talk a lot when I'm roofing."

THEN the Kahok coach addressed the impact that Friday's game would have on their friendship.

"We're friends and have been for a long time, but when Friday comes around we'll be enemies," Hollingshead said. "Then after the game we'll shake hands, talk about the game and continue our friendship."

Yates expressed a similar feeling towards Friday's game.

"It should be real interesting," Yates began. "I call our offensive signals and Bob will call Collinsville's signals on defense. We'll be matching wits head to head."

"I'M SURE I'll be looking at him and he'll be glaring at me. There will be a few arms raised in victory and defeat, but it'll be fun."

Yates and Hollingshead met four years ago when both were named assistant coaches for Jerry McKeehan at Granite City High School South. Then last year, under coach Tom Wyrstok, both coached side by side again.

"I look to see two similar styles of football," Hollingshead said of Friday night's game. "We've both been assistant coaches in the same program for several years. We've grown in football together."

WITH BOTH teams sporting winless records, Friday's game is crucial towards the redevelopment of both programs.

At 6:1 after last week's drubbing by the East St. Louis Flyers, the Warriors and Yates are looking to rebound into the ranks of winners.

"As far as I'm concerned this will be our first ball game of the season," Yates said. "Last week's game with East St. Louis was a big scrimmage. We're looking to be competitive in our next six games."

Assessing the 0-3 Kahoks, Yates said he expects a tough ball game. Collinsville defeated Edwardsville 21-6 in its season opener, but had to forfeit the win when it was later learned that two athletes were academically ineligible.

"IN MY mind, Collinsville's 1-3," Yates said. "They beat Edwardsville by two touchdowns, but lost it on an eligibility technicality. I doubt very much that those two athletes accounted for a difference in two touchdowns."

"We're looking for a hard-fought ball game," Yates said.

As for Collinsville, Hollingshead says the Kahoks are healthy and that, he thinks, may tip the scales in favor of Collinsville.

"We're in better shape injurywise and playing at our place is an added plus," Hollingshead said.

Whatever the outcome, there will be one less winless team in the SWC and Yates and Hollingshead will remain friends.

In Tennis Wednesday Warriors shut out Flyerettes

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

EAST ST. LOUIS — If the Warriors are still feeling the sting from the 53-0 defeat they suffered last Friday to East St. Louis on the gridiron, they should certainly feel a little better now.

What a week of recovery hasn't healed, a Warrior victory certainly has. In Southwestern Conference tennis action Wednesday at East St. Louis Sr., the Warriors returned the favor by handing the Flyerettes a shutout of their own — a 7-0 shellacking.

Facing their fourth tennis match in as many school days, the Granite City girls swept the matchup winning all four singles and all three doubles matches.

"THESE GIRLS are really tired," explained Warrior coach Dick Harmon. "This has been our fourth match in as many days, but they didn't want to win this one any less."

After a 2-0 start, the Warriors met some perennially tough teams earlier this week, in particular the Belleville schools.

On Monday, the Warriors dropped a 1 decision to Belleville West, West, which is consistently one of the premier clubs in the area, was relentless in its domination of the Warriors. Only Beth Sues, in third singles, was able to record a victory.

THEN, on Tuesday, the Warriors had the pleasure of traveling to Belleville once again, this time to meet the Althoff Crusaders.

Rated as the best team in the Southwestern Conference this season, the Crusaders allowed the Warriors just a single victory as they cruised to a 5-1 victory. Only Jill Werth and Andrea Suarez were winners, 6-3, 6-4, 6-0.

On Friday, the Warriors jumped to the west side of the Mississippi as they took on the McCluer North Northerstars. The Warriors were handed their first loss of the season, dropping a 5-2 decision. Only Marsha Williams, fourth singles, and Maria Parra and Dawn Schwartz, first doubles, emerged victorious.

BUT, Wednesday was a totally different story.

Aided by two defaults, the Warriors began the day on the right foot as first singles player Sherri Ousley turned back East St. Louis' Jackie Williams 6-0, 6-2.

Ousley used a combination of baseline volleys and short, drop shots to unsettle Williams to pace her victory.

Following Angela Pinkston's victory by default, Sues bettered the Flyerettes' Rhonda Hall 6-1, 6-0 in third singles. Sues wasted little time in retiring Hall, winning the pairing in as little as 40 minutes.

In fourth singles, Marsha Williams, blanked Desiree Rattler in straight sets of 6-0. Williams, who Harmon calls the Warriors' surprise player of the season, was devastating in her domination of Rattler.

TURNING to doubles action, the Warriors proved their supremacy as they managed to sweep those matchups while not allowing the Flyerettes to win a single game.

With the help of a default in third doubles, the Warriors' first doubles duo of Parra and Schwartz sent down the Flyerettes' Williams and Kelley, a very definite candidate for national championship honors this season," predicts Mike Kelley, coach of the SIUE women kickers.

In second doubles, Jill Werth and Andrea Suarez equaled their teammates' efforts by defeating the Flyerettes' Rattler and Stephanie Pittman by identical shutout scores.

The victory even the Warriors' record at 3-3 this season.

With a day of rest today, the Warriors will travel to Beloit Friday for a 4 p.m. matchup. The pairing was originally scheduled for Sept. 10, but was postponed due to the teachers' strike.

ON THE BASELINE. Granite City High School first singles player Sherri Ousley runs from right to left on this baseline return from East St. Louis' Jackie Williams during Southwestern Conference tennis action Wednesday. Ousley and the entire Warrior team were winners, their third of the season.

Alton outstrokes Warriors

By JAMES BLASINGAME
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — The Granite City golfing Warriors lost a quarterfinal match to Alton by a single stroke Wednesday at Arlington Golf Club 167-168.

Rotana finished third, 30 shots back at 187, and Wood River pulled up the rear with a team score of 194. The Redbirds were led by Deacon Retzer's 38 and Todd Cress's 38, both fine scores in the cool, windy conditions.

"I'm really surprised at the 38 and 39," said Alton coach Larry Overath. "They're both capable golfers, but with that wind out there, that's really something."

"WE KNEW we had our work cut out for us with Granite City. They're always tough here with (Chris) Carden," said Overath.

Indeed, the Redbirds did have their work cut out for themselves, but it was Eldon Depew, who fired a 38 of his own, that led Granite City. Mike Sturman shot a 42, Carden a 43, and Alan Gerard closed out the scoring for the Warriors with a 45.

Overath is hopeful about his team's chances in post season play. "It's a lot more optimistic now than I was 10 or 12 days ago. If we can get one more player to shoot in the low 40's to go with Cress and Retzer, then we've got a shot at districts," said the Alton coach.

ON TUESDAY the Warriors traveled to Mascoutah for a match with the Indians. The result was the same, but the score wasn't quite as close as Granite City was beaten 167-179.

In summarizing his team's defeat, Warrior coach Russ Chappell said, "We played as bad as we could...I hope."

The only bright spot in Tuesday's loss was Alan Gerard's hole-in-one. Gerard used a six iron on the 147-yard par three.

"It was very exciting. There was a strong left to right wind. The ball hit short on the green and rolled up and in," said the Warrior golfer.

"One guy from Mascoutah said, 'It may be the only time in my life I see one,'" Gerard concluded.

Depew was low man for Granite City on Tuesday with a 43.

The Warriors will compete in the Centralia Invitational Tournament Saturday at 9 a.m.

Wisconsin-Madison Rematch SIUE women: A national power

By AL BARNES
of the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — "The Granite City players on the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville make the Cougars a very definite candidate for national championship honors this season," predicts Mike Kelley, coach of the SIUE women kickers.

Kelley, 28, a former men's soccer star (a Christian Brothers College high graduate and transfer from Meramec Community College under Pat McBride to SIUE), has just taken over as head coach of the women Cougar kickers this campaign. He assisted coaching the SIUE women kickers the past two seasons.

Kelley was the main spark-plug of Meramec College's junior college national championship drive in 1976. However, because he has yet to earn his under-graduate degree at SIUE, Kelley will serve under the direction of Cindy Jones, head women's softball coach and an assistant athletic director under Eldon Bigham.

The young coach could almost field a full team composed of Granite City girls: there are nine who are either starters or players who will log a great deal of playing time.

Kelley's starts his analysis of the 1984 SIUE women's varsity soccer squad with Patricia Atkinson, midfielder and defender: "She is our best player in the air with the head ball. She'll rarely lose a head ball. She's real aggressive and is truly a good athlete. She's our 'stopper' and is a lot like her fellow Granite City native, Steve Trischuh on the defense. But, and she's definitely showing signs of doing it, she has to learn to be a little more patient."

Next to receive Kelley's appraisal is Susan Bell, a mid-fielder: "Susy is our field general. Nobody works harder than she does — both ways. She knows when to switch from either side and she always finds the open space and she is an experienced player (a senior). I wish I had her for another year because I believe we'll be even better in '85."

Mary Blach, says Kelley, "is our Super Sub. While not a starter, Mary has played in all of our games to date. When I put her into the lineup in the midfield I don't have to worry about a let down in that part of our game."

Jennifer Boyer's blazing speed is "her chief value to us," says Kelley. He adds: "Without a doubt Boyer is our fastest player and, in addition, she has that most priceless of talents — experience. There's simply no substitute for experience." She's SIUE's right winger.

Almost equally as fast as Boyer is Susan Buenger. "We switched Buenger to wing back primarily because of her speed. Both Jennifer and Susan are important to us because of their coolness under game conditions." He adds: "All players make mistakes in games but these two never let their own or their teammates' errors bother them."

Deanna Epps, a starter all three years since women's soccer was inaugurated at SIUE, has already (after just six games) matched her best goal scoring figures with seven. "Her best assets," explains Kelley, "are her speed and what she does with the ball 'on the move.' Her game's biggest improvement is the fact that she has learned to drop back to support the midfielders. Her goal against the University of Wisconsin in Madison was a thing of beauty. She took a pass from Susan Balota and simply outstrut the lone defender."

The 5-2 loss to Wisconsin-Madison is the only blot on the Cougars' record.

In goal for the women kickers is Theresa Soellner, a sophomore from Granite City South High. Her brother, Frank, is a fullback for the Warriors this season.

"Theresa is our most improved player. She credits Mark Mason with helping her most to learn the keeper's ability. The keeper position going into this season was our biggest question mark. She's developing real fast. In our 2-2 game in Minnesota last week against St. Mary's she made an incredible 'save' on a direct penalty kick. She'll keep on improving her game because she's constantly working on her technique in the nets and the keeper's mechanics." Mason was a sub keeper at SIUE.

Pausing, as if somewhat hesitant of pointing out his own contributions to the improvement of Soellner's game in goal, he said: "For the past three summers, I've worked at Coach Jerry Yeagley's Indiana University soccer camp. This immediate past summer, knowing I would have to help Theresa take over the keeper slot, I sought and got a lot of help in the skills of goal keeping."

Kelley's older brother, Joe, is the assistant soccer coach at Indiana under Yeagley and the head women's coach. The two brothers will clash Oct. 30th at Cougar Field.

Two other Granite City girls who are, according to Kelley, sure to play key roles in this year's SIUE team, are Laura James and Lisa Kalka. "Laura has probably the hardest shot of the squad. Her 'strikes' of the ball is in the traditional manner which gave the centerforward the name of 'striker.' Her kicks just clip the ball off of the top of the grass and it is so hard it drives the keeper backwards."

Kalka, says Kelley, is "a real hard worker and she is, real fast foot. That talent alone makes her a valuable member of our squad," he adds.

How are the women's teams selected for the national championship tournament? Kelley was asked. "The top four teams in the rankings at the end of the season receive byes," he said. "Fortunately, we'll get another shot at Wisconsin-Madison (in the UMSL tournament) Sept. 28-30. We've got to beat both Wisconsin and UMSL to land a post-season tournament bid," he explained.

Kelley's qualifications for the SIUE coaching berth are top-flight. He came to SIUE as a high-scoring forward at both C.B.C. and at Meramec junior college. At SIUE, Coach Bob Guelker placed him back on defense, where he played alongside one of the greatest Cougar soccer defensive aces of all time, Greg (the Face) Makowski, who is everyone's All-Pro both with the St. Louis Steamers and now with the Kansas City Comets.

Just before the 1977 Bronze Boot Game with St. Louis U., played that year at Washington University's Frances Field, young Kelley convinced Guelker to switch him to sweeper back. The move must have worked because the Cougars went on to beat the Bills, 3-2.

That same season, in the NCAA Midwest regional tournament final SIUE played Indiana at Cougar Field on a bitterly cold day, Kelley turned in his best game of his collegiate career. Assigned to "Mark" Indiana's all-time great and great time All-American, Angelo Dierhard, he didn't allow the Hoosier star a single shot on goal. Angelo went on to star for the New York Cosmos.

Receives Numerous Honors Laufer receives softball scholarship

Mary Lynn Laufer, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Tom Laufer of Altamora, Iowa, has received a softball scholarship to attend Iowa State University.

Miss Laufer played on the North Polk softball team during the season just completed.

Among her accomplishments, she made first team in the the conference, district first team, regional first team as well as all-state first team catcher. She was also named Player of the Year in Class A, Central Area.

She is the daughter of Mrs. Pat Laufer, the former Pat Durell of Granite City, and the granddaughter of Mrs. Carrie Durell and late Frank Durell of Granite City.

Fishing Tourney GC man in regional tournament

A Granite City man, Keith Sveda, is one of 25 fishermen from the Illinois Division of the Red Man Tournament Trail to have qualified for this weekend's regional tournament at Ft. Loudon Lake near Knoxville, Tenn.

Sveda qualified for the tournament by amassing 65.5 points with a catch of 18 pounds 6 oz.

Six qualifying tournaments in the Illinois Division came to an end Sunday, Sept. 9. John Wright of Effingham leads the division standings with 207.5 points and 44 lbs. 12 oz. of fish. Second place belongs to Bill Harkins of St. Charles, Mo., the only qualifier not from Illinois.

The Illinois Division qualifiers will join top anglers from the Hoosier, Northeastern, Piedmont and Bulldog divisions on Ft. Loudon Lake. Regional tournaments for other divisions are scheduled for Eufaula Lake near Eufaula, Ala., and Kentucky Lake near Gilbertsville, Ky.

The winner of each of the three region events receives a Dodge Ram Tough truck and a Ranger bass boat equipped with an Evinrude motor, Humminbird electronics, Motor-Guide trolling motor and Action Pack/Super Crank batteries. Prize money at each region tourney is $15,000.

Most importantly, the top 12 anglers from each region advance to the All American Bass Championship, scheduled for Oct. 30-Nov. 3 on the Kissimmee Chain near Orlando, Fla. The All American champion wins $100,000 in cash.

The tournaments are held on Sunday, enabling fishermen who work during the week to fish for prizes on weekends.

Original plans called for 34 fishermen to advance to the regional. But when the straight edge was dropped to find the 24th qualifier, two names appeared on the same line.

For information on how to join Operation Bass and become involved in the 1985 circuit, call or write: Operation Bass, Rt. 2, Box 74B, Gilbertsville, Ky. 42044, (502) 362-4880 or 362-9820.

GAME BOUND. Various members of Granite City High School's football teams assemble near one of two buses which transported them to Carbondale for last Saturday's Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville's game against Arkansas State. The contingent of Warriors enjoyed their selves, but the same can't be said about the Salukis. SIUC lost the game 19-0. The trip was made possible by the GCHS Booster Club.

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED
Attorney At Law

Sometimes an individual will give an item to another person for some particular purpose. At some designated time, the person who receives the item is to return it to the individual who gave it to him. This arrangement is known as a bailment. The person giving the item is called the bailor. The person receiving the item is known as the bailee.

The question that arises in these cases is what happens when the item, in the hands of the bailee, is lost or damaged. What is the duty of the bailor to care for the item? The answer to this question depends upon the type of bailment involved.

The most frequent type of bailment is the mutual benefit bailment, which is also known as the bailment for hire. In this type, if the bailee is negligent and this negligence results in loss or damage to the item, then he is liable to the owner of the property. Some examples will help illustrate this situation.

In one case, an individual brought his car to a used car lot to be appraised for a trade in. After the test drive, the salesman was unable to enter the lot and had to park the individual's car on the street across from the lot. While so parked, the car was hit and totaled by a car involved in a police chase. The Court found a mutual benefit to exist and set the car dealer's duty as one of ordinary care. The Court held that the dealer had met his duty and had done all that was possible to protect the car. Therefore, the dealer was not responsible for the damage.

In another case, the car owner pulled into a parking garage at O'Hare Airport. He received a ticket from a machine, pulled through the gates that raised automatically, parked the car, locked it and took the keys. While parked in the garage, the car was stolen. The Illinois Supreme Court distinguished this case from that where the owner leaves the car, and the keys, with a lot attendant, who has the ability to move the car as needed, who guards the lot, and who has the duty of relinquishing the car to the owner upon receiving the ticket. In this case, the Court found there was no bailment. The Court held that lots of the type involved here do not create a bailment but merely a lease of space.

Church Activities

Bond burning event at First Christian

A mortgage burning ceremony at the First Christian Church, 2904 Maryville Road, was attended by 101 members of the congregation, preceded by a 5 o'clock dinner hosted last week at the church.

Herbert Camren, a representative of a local bank, presented the paid in full mortgage to the board members of the church, during the ceremonial.

The Rev. Jerry Britt, host minister, subsequently tore the mortgage into eight pieces and the burning was shared by several members of the congregation.

In keeping with the special celebration a musical group from St. Louis Christian College presented its first concert.

The evening message, "A Quitter Never Loses" was delivered by Rev. Britt to the record breaking crowd. Last year the record attendance was reached at 72.

Rev. Britt also extends an invitation to area residents to attend services at the church. "We are growing and welcome new members and guests," he added.

Unity Choir to present musical

Unity Choir, under the direction of Peggy Nickles, will be presenting musical selections based on the theme of "Peace" at 6 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 30, at the First Church of the Nazarene, 4701 Highway 111.

The Rev. William Roddy and his congregation invites the public to come and join them for this special presentation.

Peggy Nickles, of Wood River, had a vision for an outreach ministry of music that would involve musicians of all denominations. As a result, in 1978 United Community Choir, Inc. was founded.

This outreach encompassed over 100 individuals from 13 denominations and involved at least 20 different churches. In the beginning, the community group gave presentations once or twice a year.

However, since they were so well received, the need for a smaller, more mobile, group that could minister throughout the year was recognized. Thus, 28 individuals were chosen from the community group to form the choir now known as "Unity."

Since its establishment, Unity has ministered to churches and organizations throughout the Metro-East and Southern Illinois region, the host pastor explained.

CELEBRATION. The minister of First Christian Church, 2904 Maryville Road, and members of the church board, accept the paid in full mortgage at a special celebration held at the church. From left, Rev. Jerry Britt, pastor, Bob Young, Earl Lancaster, Clarence Schumacher, Earl Keel, Clyde Sawyer, Harman, board members, and Herbert Camren of First Granite City National Bank, holding the mortgage papers.

The business meeting followed with three members reported to be ill. D. Calvin Compton in the hospital following emergency surgery; Dora Youngs now is home after from a long stay in a hospital in Florida, and Eula Myers now recovering from a stay in Illinois.

Homer Huber announced that the work on the Bible racks in the sanctuary is still in progress.

The president informed the class that the Christmas plans are started, and that Ethel and John Lerch are in charge of entertainment for that night.

The meeting was closed after President Cleveland Cox, read a poem by Juanita Davis. ## Presbyterian merger to celebrate unity Oct. 7

Presbyterians from the St. Louis area, Quad City area and Southeast Missouri will celebrate unity Sunday, Oct. 7, at Kiel Opera House in St. Louis.

It will be the nation's first merger of two Presbyteries, which are the denominations' governing units covering churches in a region.

The Elijah Parish Lovejoy Presbytery, part of the former United Presbyterian Church U.S.A., will unite with the Presbytery of Southeast Missouri, part of the former "Southern" Presbyterian Church U.S.

On the national level, the two denominations merged on June 10, 1983, after 122 years of separation. They formed the Presbyterian Church U.S.A. The new Presbytery of Giddings-Lovejoy includes 31,000 members of 94 churches in the Lovejoy Presbytery and 8,000 members of 22 churches in the Southeast Missouri Presbytery. Its offices will be at 2222 Towson Grove Ave., which now houses the Lovejoy Presbytery Center.

Coming Home in the Year of Jubilee is the theme of the merger program, which will start at 5 p.m.

Girls in Action Day at Baptist grounds

The Madison County Baptist Association sponsored a Fun Day for Girls in Action and a Girls in Action for a Day training session for leaders.

Girls in Action, G.A.'s, are groups sponsored by area Baptist Churches for girls in grades first through sixth. They learn about missionaries and their work in the United States and other countries. They also are taught to carry out mission projects in the community.

Carolyn Hall, Association Director for Baptist Young Women, was in charge of "Fun Day" and was assisted by the Baptist Young Women from Second Baptist Church, Shawn Wolf, an Acteen from Suburban Baptist Church, and women from Calvary Baptist Church, all of Granite City.

The G.A.'s participated in games of other countries, memorized scripture verses, made up cheer songs, and led cheers for the Lord. During the day, all shared in a picnic.

Debbie Hiel, Granite City Director, was in charge of the training session. Assistants included Karen Wolf, Association Director of G.A.'s, Janice Barnes and Barbara Ratcliff, leaders from Suburban Baptist Church.

The women learned to use the leaders guides to set up meetings, introduce monthly study about missions and missionaries, to conduct large group time at meetings, and to plan and set up unit projects. They also played games and held a discussion period to share problems.

There were 28 G.A.'s present and seven leaders with seven churches represented.

Anyone interested in organizing a Girls in Action Group in the Madison County Baptist Association or know of any girls interested in joining a Girls in Action Group, are advised to contact Karen Wolf, association director of G.A.'s at 877-3338.

Nameoki Presbyterian to hear school bond facts

Al Bagl, chairman of the monthly Fellowship Breakfast in the Nameoki Presbyterian Church, announces the first fall breakfast to be held at 7:30 a.m., Sunday, Sept. 30th. The monthly breakfast is sponsored by men of the church and is open to both men and women and their guests.

To become acquainted with a pressing public issue, the Fellowship Breakfast Group has invited a representative of the Granite City School Board to present the fact of the upcoming bond issue.

"Courage for the Discouraged" will be the theme of Pastor Don Pierson's message at the 10:15 a.m. worship service. Sunday School classes begin at 9 a.m. and both junior and senior highs will be attending the Fall Youth Rally at the Kirkwood Presbyterian Church in the afternoon.

World-Wide Communion will be observed on Sunday, Oct. 7th, reports the pastor. The congregation will be invited to participate in a Peace-Making offering that Sunday.

"Virtually nobody in a position of world leadership seems embarrassed or ashamed that the world is spending an average of $19,300 per soldier per year, while spending only $380 per school-aged child for education. We have 556 soldiers per 100,000 people and only 85 physicians."

Pastor Pierson commented. "Without addressing the issue of peace-making, there won't be a future for any of us to worry about," he added.

The Session, the decision-making body of the congregation, and the Board of Deacons will be looking at the ministry of the church in a joint meeting set for Monday, Oct. 15th. This will be followed by the Annual Budget and Ministry meeting set for Monday, Oct. 22, a spokesman explained.

Biology class presents challenge to SIUE students

By PETER L. SIMPSON

"In biology, it is one stupefaction after another." Students in the September Option course, GSM 130: Contemporary Biology, read this sentence during the first week of their intensive study at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

For four weeks, they met each morning with Douglas J. Eder, associate professor of biology, who acted as a guide in making sense of the succession of stupefactions.

THE STATEMENT above was not made by Professor Eder. It was taken from one of the required books: "Late Night Thoughts on Listening to Mahler's Ninth Symphony" by Lewis Thomas. The famous essayist continues:

"... Just 30 years ago, we called it a biological revolution when the fantastic geometry of the DNA molecule was exposed to public view and the linear language of genetics was decoded. For a while, things seemed simple and clear; the cell was a neat little machine, a mechanical device ready for taking to pieces and reassembling, like a tiny watch. But just in the last few years it has become almost impenetrably complex."

Not too complex for Professor Eder and his class to ponder, however. They took an array of difficult current issues head on, with a week each devoted to genetics and immunology, ecology, brain and drugs and finally, evolution.

"ORGAN TRANSPLANTS, genetic engineering, AIDS, toxic wastes and evolution are topics which evoke strong opinions and emotions within our society," Eder observed. He pointed out that many arguments and fears can arise from misunderstanding about biological principles.

So he organized a September Option course that addressed these subjects at almost break-neck speed. In less than a month, for five mornings a week starting at 8:30 and going to 10:20, students discussed the topics in class and followed a standard textbook.

They also read all the essays in the book by Lewis Thomas, who is able to treat scientific subjects with a humane clarity that has earned him a National Book Award. According to Eder, they "deal with our chosen topics, sometimes in a way which is disturbing, always in a way which provides for argument."

THE MANNER in which arguments were conducted in the class could take the form of a debate over an intense controversy concerning the development of a backyard area as a nuclear and toxic waste site. A graduate assistant and members of the class became candidates for Congress debating over the creation of jobs, guarantees that the state of the art technology would be used and the ecological effects of disturbing the present state of things.

All the issues were carefully aired — students came to their own conclusions. Those conclusions are also supported by what Professor Eder describes as "the real major text of the course."

It is drawn from Time and Newsweek magazines. "They often feature cover stories which highlight important and controversial findings in biomedical and environmental science," Eder explained.

"A UNIVERSITY liberal education does nothing if it cannot provide you, a non-scientist, with an appreciation sufficient to understand the major issues behind such cover stories. You are a citizen of the Western World — these issues are part of your life."

In the Congressional debate, the site involved was a legacy of the Manatee Indian civilization. It was next to navigable waterways, in which fishing could be destroyed by the development. It was also home of the horseshoe snail, which is a major source of the wonder drug interferon. Within it was the Black Swamp, which produced organisms at the bottom of the food chain, yet essential if fish were not to starve.

One student argued as a candidate that only one lake was involved and fishing would not be seriously affected. The project was based upon 25 years of successful operations in Europe in which nuclear wastes were disposed with no contamination, using containers which would not leak. She conceded that the new equipment might cause slight bird migration but would not interfere with any existing town life. It would also bring a valuable medical center into the area.

A STUDENT opponent argued that too much lake was to be used — a time might come when the lake would be needed. She maintained that all toxic waste was deadly. Another felt that more research needed to be done on the horseshoe snail. Even with tourist development, there were still too many unknowns to allow the project to be carried forward, although she conceded that the loss to the fishing industry could be considered a fair trade-off.

The debate was followed with a press conference, with students asking questions from major news organizations. They pressed each candidate on specific aspects of their arguments.

The hour cracked with involvement — only at the end did Professor Eder allow himself a quiet, happy smile.

STUDENTS COULD not rest as easily. They faced two exams, a mid-term and a final, along with two five to seven-page written papers, which according to Eder's directions, were to "provide a confrontation between scientific and ethical positions on the four major areas in the course."

GSM 130: Contemporary Biology is not, according to Professor Eder, a watered-down "baby biology" course, nor is it a course aimed at turning students into "mini-doctors of life science."

He told the students: "When you're done here, you should be able to feel more comfortable when considering what is scientific evidence and what is not, when analyzing environmental issues before voting on them and when weighing the TV advertising claims made in behalf of a headache remedy."

IN SHORT, Eder hopes that each student will become a "scientifically literate citizen" through involvement in discussions ranging from the procedures and ethics for organ transplant to the fate of living on earth in the nuclear age.

Those who exercised their September Option in taking this course, apparently, accepted his challenge.

CONTEMPORARY BIOLOGISTS TAKE TO THE FIELD. Douglas J. Eder, associate professor of biology at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, takes members of his September Option class into the field to study the ecology of the area. GSM 130: Contemporary Biology also emphasizes class debates, readings from Lewis Thomas and Time and Newsweek magazines as ways of producing what Eder describes as "scientifically literate citizens." (SIUE Photo)

Some foster children up for adoption

Kenneth is a tall, thin 3-year old with brown hair. He enjoys playing pool and playing with toy trucks. Because he was severely neglected by his natural family, his personality and social development lag behind his physical development.

Linda Bauvain a social worker for the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services, is searching for a permanent adoptive home for Kenneth. Several attempts to rehabilitate Kenneth's family failed, and the department now has the responsibility of finding him a permanent home.

The ideal home would be a two-parent family where both parents are flexible. Kenneth would enjoy being part of a family with one or two other children. He will also need much supervision from his new parents.

Kenneth is affectionate and loving. He can also be aggressive and, because of his turbulent childhood, has sometimes angry.

Although foster care is usually temporary, these are children like Kenneth who become available for adoption. This happens when the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services is unable to rehabilitate the family or the family voluntarily surrenders its right to a child.

In either instance, a child available for adoption needs a warm, loving family who will accept a child's limitations, understand older children available for adoption have been the victims of child abuse or child neglect, Miss Bauvain said.

There are sometimes subsidies available for families who wish to adopt an older child. The subsidies are geared to each individual child's needs.

The overwhelming majority of children placed in foster homes return to their natural families. A small number of children are made available for adoption.

If a child has been in foster care for more than a year and becomes available for adoption, the foster parents are given first consideration for adoption.

She said foster homes are desperately needed for children of all ages, including "Understanding and flexibility are two qualities seen in successful foster parents. Foster parents should be able to accept a child's hurt over being separated from his or her family."

"Foster parents choose the age range, race and sex of the children to be placed in their home. All foster parents must attend four training sessions before a child is placed in their home. Training programs are available for all active foster parents."

For more information on requirements for foster homes or if you are interested in knowing more about the program, please call Jane Heathcote at 678-8985. Private agency foster parents interviewed by their local office.

New law reduces vehicle registration for seniors

Senior citizens and disabled persons who meet the requirements for Circuit Breaker benefits will have to pay only half as much to register a vehicle in the 1986 registration year under legislation signed into law last week by Governor James R. Thompson.

"Most of us value good transportation for the mobility and convenience it adds to our lives," the governor said. "But for low-income senior citizens and disabled persons, good transportation means more. It is the difference between independent living and reliance on others for the essentials of daily life."

This reduction in vehicle registration fees will help eligible senior citizens and disabled persons struggling to make ends meet, stretch their dollars a little further," he said.

House Bill 2751 provides a 50 percent reduction in vehicle registration fees to senior citizens 65 years of age and older and disabled persons who are eligible for Circuit Breaker benefits. (Senior citizens and disabled persons must have an annual household income of less than $12,000 to be eligible for Circuit Breaker benefits under the Senior Citizens and Disabled Persons Property Tax Relief Act.)

The reduction applies to one car, pickup truck or recreational vehicle per person but does not cover the additional fee charged for vanity plates. It is estimated that the law will reduce fees for as many as 250,000 senior citizens and 58,000 handicapped persons.

"This new law recognizes the special needs of low-income persons
